CONGRESS AGREES TO ADJOURN SESSIONS AT 5 O'CLOCK

Rogers To Guard Namesake, Lest He Run To Pole

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 29.—Breeding and ancestry hasn't got a thing to do with anything this boy, Andy Payne, has.

His daddy and I grew up together, about the same age, and he was raised on an outfit next to ours. He never run in his life, he always rode horseback.

He has another kid that was named for me and I am certainly going to try and keep him from running down to Buenos Aires, or up to Alaska or somewhere.

If Andy don't get that prize money this certainly ought to be a lesson to him to never run that far unless he is sure.

If I was him from now on I would just enter some short sprints, or maybe just fifteen hundred or two thousand miles.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

When you put out the flag tomorrow see that it is according to the regulations. The rules as issued by the United States government were published in The News last night, if you are not acquainted with them.

The season's first great caravan of holiday autoists is moving through the city today. While the Memorial Day holiday procession through the city is not as great as that at the Fourth of July and on Labor Day, thousands of visitors are traveling through the city today.

And, by the way, we still have the same old traffic congestion on the main street. Hasten some of those bridges we have been reading about.

Work has progressed to such an extent upon the open air arena on Grant and Sampson streets that it is beginning to arouse curiosity of persons passing by. The bowl will seat several thousand when completed, according to the promoters.

If you are planning to take to the road in your auto tomorrow, do your share to make traveling safe. "Safety first" should be the watchword of every driver.

The extent to which auto travel is developing in this area is noted daily by the wide variety of state auto licenses seen on the streets. Possibly the Ben Franklin highway is being used by cross-continent travelers.

Work pushes steadily forward on the big viaduct at Wampum. Traveling the main highway one can note a house or two that will have to be removed to make way for the approaches on the Wampum end of the viaduct.

Work has been started on the razing of the two houses at the intersection of State and Greenwood avenues, which are being removed by the city to make way for an improvement in the street intersection. This will be a big traffic aid when completed.

Attend the memorial services tomorrow morning. Remember that Memorial Day is not an occasion that was designated for sports. It is a day set apart to pay tribute to the heroes who have given their lives in defense of their country.

A new feature of the observance in New Castle will be the tolling of bells at noon Wednesday. It is anticipated that church, school and fire bells will be tolled everywhere, in this city and county, for five minutes at 12 o'clock Wednesday.

Although New Castle is entertaining more conventions year by year, there is still a mark for the city to shoot at. In one of the metropolitan newspapers, Pa Newc notes that New York City, during the past year, has played host to 923 annual meetings.

With well over 500 members reported as being signed up, the last whirlwind drive of the workers of the New Castle Civic Music Association is now on. At 10 o'clock this evening the campaign will close until next year at this time. After that, no more members will be admitted. If one

Senate Reverses Monday's Action; Votes To Adjourn

Session Of Congress Will Be Formally Adjourned At Five O'clock Today

BOULDER DAM BILL SUPPORTERS LOSE OUT

Filibuster Against Action On Bill Results In Agreement On Adjournment

By WILLIAM H. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Reversing its action of yesterday, the Senate, after an all-night session, voted today to adjourn the 70th Congress at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Immediate adoption by the House of the adjournment resolution is anticipated, as the House had already voted to quit at five o'clock today.

The vote to adjourn was 46 to 35.

The revised adjournment resolution was brought in by administration leaders after it appeared evident that Boulder dam supporters would not be able to break the filibuster conducted against the bill by the two Arizona senators, Ashurst and Hayden.

It was planned to make the Boulder dam bill the Senate's unfinished business for the December session, thus assuring its adoption next winter.

The vote astounded Boulder dam adherents, after their victory of yesterday when Vice President Dawes broke a tie to vote against adjournment. A tremendous crowd jammed the floor of the Senate and its balconies as the vote was taken. There was no outburst of cheering as occurred yesterday when the Senate voted to keep Congress here.

The wide difference between the 40 to 40 vote yesterday and the 46 to

PLANE HAD PLANNED FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

Hope For Safety Of Italia's Crew Revived My Meager Messages Reported

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 29.—The Roma, largest single motored airplane in the world, may take off from here today or tomorrow to search for General Nobile and the missing dirigible Italia.

Captain Caesare Sabelli, Italian flier, Capt. Peter Bonelli and Roger Williams had planned to start a New York to Rome flight in the plane before June 10.

May Start Tonight

"We will not start before tonight," said Williams, "and we may not start before Wednesday, but unless the Nobile party is found by Wednesday at the latest, we will go."

Williams said they probably would fly directly to Spokane, Washington. From there they plan to go to Point Barrow, where a base of operations for an extended search of the Polar regions will be established.

Captain Sabelli indicated that once the search for his fellow countrymen was undertaken, it would not be abandoned until the Nobile party had been rescued, or their fate determined beyond doubt.

Hope Is Revived

LONDON, May 29.—Hope for the safety of General Umberto Nobile and the seventeen members of the crew of the lost dirigible Italia was revived at King's Bay today when the captain of the supply ship Citta di Milano wirelessed that he had received information leading him to believe that the dirigible had made a forced landing at Amsterdam Island, a Central News dispatch from the dirigible's base stated.

Amsterdam Island is a few miles north of Magdalena Bay where the Citta di Milano is hemmed in by the ice-floes.

The captain of the supply ship wirelessed that he had been in communication with a sealer which reported having received a message

Penny Postal Card To Return

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Coolidge today signed the postal rate revision bill, which will reduce mail tariffs $16,000,000 annually. The measure provides lower rates for newspapers and magazines and restores the penny postal card.

The president also signed the second deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $145,000,000 for various governmental operations between now and July 1.

Coolidge Signs Tax Reduction Measure Today

Tax Reduction Bill Of $222,495,000 Signed By President Coolidge

CORPORATIONS ARE EXTENDED BENEFIT

Most Of Reductions Will Not Become Effective Until Next January 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 29—President Coolidge today signed the $222,495,000 tax reduction bill.

Corporations gained the chief benefit under the bill, with the corporation rate cut to 12 per cent.

A reduction of about $60,000,000 was effected through repeal of the automobile tax.

Most of the reductions will not become effective until next January 1

Close To Limit

The reduction was close to the limit set by the administration. The bill was approved by Secretary of Treasury Mellon before the President affixed his signature.

The bill constituted a compromise before the senate and house, with the senate winning on most of the important points. The house passed a $289,000,000 reduction, while the senate cut the figure to $204,000,000.

No benefit will accrue to the small tax payer under the new law, as the income tax brackets were not touched.

Passage of the bill in the senate resulted from a coalition of Republicans and insurgents. The latter agreed to support the administration's proposal in return for retention of the Federal Estate tax, which Mellon wanted repealed.

State Convention Closes Tonight

Banquet And Public Meeting To Conclude Insurance Gathering

ONE OF SPEAKERS COMES IN PLANE

Apparently well satisfied that the present convention of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania has been one of the best ever held by the organization, the 450 or more delegates and several hundred visitors who have been present at the sessions, will leave this evening following the adjournment.

The annual banquet will be held this evening in the dining room of the Scottish Rite cathedral, following which Captain Patrick Irving O'Hay will address a public meeting in the auditorium. This will be the concluding event of "Pennsylvania Days" which opened Monday morning.

Flies Here From Pittsburgh.

Col. Harry C. Fry, Jr., of Pittsburgh, one of the speakers at this morning's session, with his wife flew from Pittsburgh this morning in order to be at the auditorium in time for his address. Col. and Mrs. Fry were met at Jackson field by President William S. Diggs and a committee of insurance men. The address of Col. Fry is found in another column of today's News.

Senator George T. Weingartner of this city spoke to the delegates this morning on "Insurance Legislation Past, present and Future." In his address he discussed the legislation passed in the session of 1927 of the Pennsylvania general assembly, the possibilities of future legislation and the effect of past legislation. Senator Weingartner was introduced by former Senator Fred A. Service of Sharon.

New Castle Plane En Route To City From San Diego

Stop Is Made At Tuscon, Arizona, After Hop Of 685 Miles

FLY AT ALTITUDE OF SOME 8,500 FEET

Expect To Reach New Castle Late Wednesday Or Some Time Thursday

(Special To The News)

TUSCON, Arizona, May 29.—Flying 685 miles in six hours and six minutes, the "Spirit of New Castle," piloted by Ed Schultz and with D. Roy Bradford as a passenger, landed here at 8:45 Monday evening on the first leg of a flight from San Diego, California, where they recently purchased the new Ryan monoplane, to New Castle, Pa., the home of the New Castle Aircraft, Inc., and the home of the two aviators.

Up 8500 Feet.

When they first took off from the San Diego field, the plane rose rapidly to an altitude of 5000 feet, and in a half hour they were flying at 8,500 feet. Visibility was fine, and several forest fires in the mountains were seen by the flyers. An hour after the take off, Schultz and Bradford saw the first house on the desert. A short time afterwards, their compass went bad, and in lower California they lost their way. Finally they found the Gulf of California, but a strong wind continued to blow them south.

Flying at 10,000 feet, snow capped mountain peaks were directly ahead, and at 4:25 p. m., when at 11,200 feet, they found the Colorado river. Trees were growing in the river bed. When they got out over the desert, they could find no place to land.

At 5:45, the aviators landed their ship, and after a short test, at 6:05 they took off again, following a trail over the hot desert to Gilabend, where they arrived at 7:10, at a speed of 110 miles an hour. Again they took off for the east, and at 8:45, they landed at Tuscon, covering 685 miles in six hours and six minutes. During the trip the motor of the ship never missed.

Mrs. Richard Gwilym, Sr., of Lyndal street has returned home from a visit with her sons, Horace and David of Cleveland, O.

For a day at least we can sit around and enjoy a vacation and rest, for one whole day there is naught to do, and the vacation's tomorrow you've guessed. No paper to write, and no news to get, and nothing to do but play, and I hope the weather stays just as it is, its sixty-seven today. What ho for a trip on the winding roads, or a session of sport for a while, or a dinner perhaps at a summer resort, all dressed in the classiest style. But the biggest treat for a newspaper man, it not excitement a bit, but just the chance to sit down and rest, and sit, and sit and sit.

Rodeheaver, Song Leader; Stirs Great Crowd Here; Revives Many Memories

Hundreds of hearts were stirred last night as they have not been stirred for 18 years when they heard the sacred song recital given by Homer Rodeheaver at the First M. E. church under the auspices of the City Mission.

This is the first appearance of Mr. Rodeheaver in New Castle since he led the singing in the Billy Sunday campaign 18 years ago. Evidence of how well his singing was remembered was shown by the audience that greeted him, for after an absence of 18 years an audience of over 1200 men and women packed the church to the doors, filling the Sunday school room and the choir loft.

When Mr. Rodeheaver asked for a showing of hands as to who were present at the meetings and heard him sing 18 years ago, it seemed that all the hands were raised.

Mr. Rodeheaver was introduced by E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the City Mission, who said that the meeting was in the hands of the noted singer and that he could conduct it just as he desired.

The program consisted of sacred songs, trombone solos and touching and amusing stories told by Mr. Rodeheaver. Accompaniments were played by Paul Beckwith, a pupil of the summer schools of music conducted by Mr. Rodeheaver at Winona Lake, Mich. Mr. Beckwith gave two fine piano solos that were well received.

Program Varied.

The program was also varied by a testimony of George Trotter of the Pittsburgh Rescue Mission, brother of Mel Trotter in whose mission in Chi-

Start Drive To Oust Lewis From Union Leadership

Save - The - Union Committee Considers Program For Ousting Of Lewis

RUMP CONVENTION IN SESSION TODAY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—Spurred by charges that John L. Lewis was "whitewashed" by the senate committee which investigated the bituminous coal strike for political reasons, the "save the union" committee and committee of 100, left wing of the United Mine Workers today considered a program which included a move to oust the international president of the U. M. W. from office.

The 200 men and women who met here in "rump" convention despite the ban placed on the meeting by regular officials of the union, today had before them a program which included several measures against what they termed the "Lewis machine" of the union.

Among their demands is a salary for officials of the union equal to that of miners, with no pay during strikes; an "education rule" whereby U. M. W. officials would be compelled to return to the mines at stated intervals "for education"; abolition of the appointive power of officials, and abandonment of district boards, with their power vested in the grievance boards.

The rump convention entered its second day today.

The parade formation will return to the Public Square and up North Jefferson street to disband. It will be reviewed by the members of the G. A. R. and ladies in automobiles from a space reserved at the west side of North Jefferson street from Washington street to North street.

The public is cordially invited to participate in these various ceremonies.

wishes to hear concerts he had better join the association at once.

Colleges again are getting ready to pour out thousands of graduates, many of whom, so far, are without jobs. Frantically those who will be graduated are besieging their friends who got out of school a year or so ago to find them something to do. Just now they are desperate, but within a month, Pa Newc wagers that they will all be employed.

Monday the "Spirit of New Castle" started from San Diego, Cal., to New Castle on a trans-continental flight. When it arrives it will be the first large plane designed for commercial traffic to be owned by a local company. And it will be flown from the New Castle airport on the Harlansburg road. Later in the week, or early next week, it is planned by the company to dedicate the port. At that time many ships will visit it and it is expected that an entire army squadron will fly up.

While on the subject, it might be well to drop the proverbial "I told you so" to those who did not believe that New Castle could support an airport. At the present time there are two within easy reach of the city. And each of them will be busy.

J. C. McGraw of the Harbor is an aged man. In fact he is 72 years old, but even at that age he craves new experiences. On Sunday afternoon Mr. McGraw got the thrill of his life. For some time he circled over the city in an airplane. How high was he? Well, Mr. McGraw states that he was so high that the automobiles on the roads looked like little dogs. And he liked it. Although he is almost deaf, Mr. McGraw, his ears covered with his aviator's helmet, could hear what the pilot said to him perfectly.

cago, Billy Sunday was converted. A. K. Rosewell of Pittsburgh was also introduced by the singer and he gave a few original poems and amusing anecdotes. Mr. Berquist and Robert McKinney, president of the board of directors of the City Mission, gave short talks concerning the work of the mission. A free will offering was taken for the City Mission.

A pleasing number of the program was the duet sang by Mr. Rodeheaver and Mrs. W. E. McClure of this city. The number was one of the recent productions of Mrs. McClure, who has written many sacred songs. The selection which they sang, of which she composed both the words and music, was "What Broke Thy Heart."

Rev. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, opened the service with prayer while Rev. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First M. E. church, closed the service with the benediction.

Mr. Rodeheaver between numbers gave several brief remarks, some amusing and some most searching. In introducing his negro spirituals he gave a testimony of the way the old negroes taught of Bible characters to their children by song and pleaded for more religious training in our homes and our schools. In speaking in favor of the rescue work of the City Mission he said that the rescue mission does that which the churches will not do and could not do if they would.

In several of the selections the congregation was asked to join and the leadership of the singer was demonstrated as he had the crowd burst into song on some of the old favorites. At the end of the program he sang several numbers by request, among which were "Sweeter As the Years Go By," "In the Garden" and "Good Morning Up There."

Among the selections of the evening were "An Evening Prayer", "The Living God", Robert Service's poem "Carry On", "It's a Mighty Good World After All", the negro spirituals "You Better Run", "Let the Church Roll On" and "To Walk in Jerusalem Just Like John". And "You Can Smile," the newer companion of "Brighten the Corner Where You Are." The trombone selections were "The Holy City" and "Asleep in Jesus".

Mr. Rodeheaver said that he had a special warm place in his heart for New Castle for it was here where he first joined Sunday in his meetings and that he had been with him ever since. At present he is on a leave of absence and it is because of that that he is able to visit New Castle but hopes to be able to come back again sooner than he has this time.

which apparently came from the lost dirigible.

Message Faint

The message received by the sealer was very faint and great difficulty was encountered in deciphering it, but the message of the Citta di Milano's captain strongly indicates that he believes the Italia made a safe landing at Amsterdam Island.

He advised that a strong wind and a murky fog prevented the immediate dispatch of a searching party but he stated that he planned to land half of his crew as soon as possible.

These men will then proceed northward over the ice on dog-sleds in an attempt to reach Amsterdam Island as soon as possible.

They will be accompanied by an experienced seal hunter who is familiar with the topography of the Polar regions. He will guide them over the shortest possible route to the place where the Italia is believed by the supply ship's captain to have landed.

Fears Somewhat Allayed

Fears for the safety of General Umberto Nobile, commander of the lost dirigible, and its crew of seventeen, were somewhat allayed by the message.

The Italia carried sufficient food rations to keep the crew alive for more than a month. It also carried three sleighs, a dozen pairs of skis and other equipment for braving the Arctic weather conditions.

It is thought possible that Nobile and some of his crew may have started southward over the ice in an attempt to get back to King's Bay.

The radio message from the Citta di Milano's captain did not reveal the time the sealer received the message thought to be from the Italia.

No Messages Heard

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29—Although Radio corporation and amateur operators here maintained their persistent lookout, no new signals through the ether had been intercepted today which might possibly furnish some definite clue to the whereabouts of General Umberto Nobile's missing exploration dirigible, Italia.

Efforts on the part of experts of the Radio Corporation to communicate with what is believed to be an amateur station in Siberia that relayed a distress signal Sunday from the lost balloon, proved futile. The signal, purportedly signed by General Nobile, is the only and last message to have been picked up here.

Advices from Alaska disclosed that radio stations there, although constantly on the alert, had failed to intercept a single call from the Italia since the dirigible left Spitzbergen on the flight to the North Pole. Confirmation was totally lacking of rumors that General Nobile, if advancing in a westerly direction, was making efforts to reach Fairbanks, Alaska.

A radio message from the City of Milan, supply ship of the Italia was intercepted late yesterday afternoon by the government wireless station at Cordova. It stated the ship was hampered in its rescue trip by great ice-floes and gave the ship's position as north of Cape Barren, 80 degrees latitude north.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 29. — Last-minute preparation completed, the huge triple-engined monoplane Southern Cross was today pronounced ready to hop off on a projected trans-Pacific aerial expedition to Australia.

Weather permitting, the giant plane will take off early tomorrow or Thursday on the first leg of the flight, a 2,400 mile hop to Honolulu. It will leave either from the Oakland airport, where it now rests in a hangar, or from the San Francisco airport, depending on wind conditions.

Four men, two Australians and two Americans, plan to make the attempted flight. They are: Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Capt. T. P. Ulm, Australian pilots; and Harry W. Lyon, Jr., navigator, and James Warren, radio operator.

The fuel tanks of the Southern Cross will be filled with 1,200 gallons of gasoline and 39 gallons of oil. This, according to calculations, is sufficient to take the giant aircraft to Hawaii and leave a residue for emergency.

It is planned to make the second leg of the flight from Honolulu to the South Sea Island of Suva, a distance of 3,138 miles, the longest flight over a single stretch of water ever attempted. From Suva, the four fliers intend to hop to Brisbane, Australia, 1,750 miles, and from Brisbane to Sydney, a distance of 500 miles.

35 majority for adjournment today was due to a shifting of senators favorable to the Mississippi barge line bill, which was passed late yesterday. This caused Senators James A. Reed and Hawes, Democrats, of Missouri, to switch from opposition to adjournment to voting for the resolution. Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, did likewise, while the adjournment group gained three new votes, Senator Swanson (D) of Virginia, Ransdell (D) of Louisiana, and Schall (R) of Minnesota, who did not vote yesterday. The opponents of adjournment lost three votes which switched while Senators Howell (R) of Nebraska, and Kendrick (D) of Wyoming, failed to vote today, after opposing adjournment yesterday.

Following adoption of the adjournment resolution Senator Bruce (D) of Maryland blocked all attempts to reach an agreement to make the bill the "unfinished business" of the Senate at its session in December. Bruce's objections brought down on him censure from Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the minority floor leader, and Senator Hiram W. Johnson (R) of California, leader of the Boulder dam fight.

After 20 minutes of fiery arguments the Senate went into executive session to consider Presidential appointments. The motion was made by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, obviously in an effort to pour oil on the troubled senatorial waters.

At the conclusion of the fight Johnson arose and delivered a magnificent gesture of defeat. He was given a tremendous ovation by the galleries and his colleagues.

"I am whipped," he said, his voice choking, "yes, but by heaven, sir, there is another day coming and someone else may be whipped."

The galleries burst into prolonged applause, while even senators and members of the House seated on the floor, joined in the cheering for the California senator.

Detroit Youth Kills Father

Youth 12 Years Old Shoots Father To Death For Abusing Stepmother

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 29.—Twelve-year-old Joseph Fiori, who shot and killed his father, Samuel, 33, well-to-do trucking contractor, is held in the juvenile detention home today while authorities decide what to do with him.

Enraged because his father had beaten his step-mother, Virginia, 27, the fifth grade school boy obtained a revolver and followed his father to the street and shot him.

"And I would do it again if he tried to harm my step-mother," Joseph declared according to the police.

Joseph's father recently bought his wife a new car and beat her because she had not changed tires on it as instructed earlier in the day.

After the shooting Joseph ran three miles to the home of his grandmother.

"I wanted to teach my dad not to hurt my mother," Joseph said. "He had hurt her before and I had promised mother I would protect her. Even though she isn't my real mother she has been awfully good to me."

MEMORIAL DAY MEMORIES

MEMORIAL DAY! And oh! the flood of memories.

Memories of the early observances, when the boys who had saved the Union swept in long processions to the cities of the dead, to pay honors to the comrades who had gone on before.

Memories of the parades of bygone years—the ever shortening lines of marchers, the ever lengthening lines of mounds marking the resting places of those who had entered upon the last bivouac.

Memories of the Spanish War—of the Maine, of Dewey at Manila, of the rush to battle in Cuba and in the far-away Philippines. And later, the homecoming of the dead to sleep beside or near the heroes of the earlier conflict.

Memories of the World War—of the boys who went cheering and singing through the streets on their way to the training camps, keeping step to the heart-quickening "Over There."

Memories of the long, heart-racking suspense and the fears after the boys had disembarked in France, and had gone forward to the battle line.

Memories of the thrills that swept over the land as the cables and wires spread the news of the glorious deeds of our boys on the crimsoned battlefields.

Memories of the heartbreaks as the fateful telegrams brought tidings of the death of the neighbor's boy—or of the boy who was nearer and dearer.

Thus it is that as the heroes of the old wars pass away the heroes of the new battles fill the vacant places, and pay homage to the glorious dead who had served their country in its times of peril. And even when lasting peace comes to the world there will be men, and women, and children in every community, large and small, to perpetuate observance of Memorial Day in paying tribute to the nation's dead.

DE-CENTRALIZATION NEEDED

IN A recent public address President Coolidge again revealed himself as a defender of state's rights. He has been consistently opposed to further centralization of government in Washington and has dared even to advocate some de-centralization. There is much food for thought in the following words of the chief executive:

"One of the most important institutions which became more firmly established as the result of the Revolution was the old theory of local self-government. But there are always those who are willing to surrender local self-government. Whenever they find that some abuse needs correction in their neighborhood, instead of applying a remedy themselves, they seek to have a tribunal sent on from Washington to discharge their duties for them, regardless of the fact that in accepting such supervision they are bartering away their freedom. We have long since realized that we have become one nation, but it is a nation founded on the individual states. Their rights ought always to be scrupulously regarded."

Perhaps it is because the people and their representatives in Washington have entertained the same thoughts that the number of federal departments has not increased for some years. During the present session of congress there has been operating in Washington a strong lobby working for the creation of a federal department of education with its own secretary in the cabinet, but congress has indicated it will not consider the question this session.

Federal control of the schools may never come for the reason that the individual states will continue to resist this encroachment by the national government. Standardization of schools and education is not to be desired, and that would be one of the fruits of federal control. Examining public opinion on the question, there is found a widespread feeling that state governments have taken too much control out of the hands of local school boards and teachers.

OF DOUBTFUL EFFICACY

AN OHIOAN'S recipe for relief from excessive taxation through telling the truth about one's taxable property certainly would increase the volume of taxables, were all persons perfectly frank and were no attempt made to conceal anything which should be listed. It goes without argument that all should make honest returns. That many do is not to be doubted; that some others do not is suspected.

Thus, those who are truthful are penalized for their honesty, if others avoid paying their proper share. If those who have been holding out should become truthful and pay their just share it would increase the revenue, doubtless, to the point of permitting a reduction in the rates of taxation which would be to the benefit of those who because of their honesty have been over-taxed, while the former tax-dodgers converted to honest ways would be paying only what they should have paid all along.

The plan has ethical merit, but there is doubt of its efficacy as an immediate practical proposition. If all persons were honest many functions of government which now entail much expense without operating with 100 per cent efficiency either could be dispersed with. The majority of people are truthful and honest but it is the minority, or whatever proportions it may be, that causes the trouble and few will be hopeful of the tax problem reaching its solution in the manner outlined by the Ohioan. It would be the ideal method and would operate with justice to all, but the millennium has not dawned and for the present the country will have to continue to prod those who may be suspected of not being as truthful in tax matters as an ideal state would demand.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:22. Sun rises tomorrow 4:33.

And we always have with us the cheap skin who keeps his poppy from one year to another so he will not have to pay another nickel to the cause of the men who made it possible for him to live and prosper. Ungratefulness is the chief stock in trade with some birds.

Watch your step or you'll lose your "rep".

In many of the street cars and other transportation vehicles you see the sign "Do Not Talk to the Operator". Those things very often run on a track, but still there is danger when the operator is annoyed. Think of this when giving orders from the back seat or front seat, either, for that matter.

Customer—I'm not satisfied with this parrot. He won't talk unless I give him a half dozen crackers.

Clerk—I forgot to mention that that parrot is strictly an after-dinner speaker.

Marriage of pupils to teachers and the making of dates between teachers and pupils in the public schools of New Comerstown, O., has been put on the ban by the school board in that burg. Well, that is not a bad idea. The kids should have their minds on their lessons and so should the teachers.

You may not need a vacation this summer, but think what a rest it will be for those whom you are with all the year.

Even the prices of skirts are not always modest.

Get your name in the paper—advertising pays. If you can't do something big politically or in a civic way, sign a patent medicine testimonial. Get it in.

"What is your husband's average income?" asked the caller.

"About 1 a. m." replied Mrs. Wise.

The 17-year locust fake is being pulled again, and it is predicted that the locusts will be around again this year. We have lived long enough to have those things around several times and we have the first one to see yet or any damage they have done. Potato bugs are more to be feared.

Doctors make a lot of money if there is any left after the suffering public gets through paying for gasoline and iceless refrigerators.

After seeing the fool things the United States Senate and Congress will do, we shiver in fear and trembling when we contemplate what the birds who are supposed to have only ordinary intelligence will pull off to the detriment of humanity in general. It seems to us it's time in this country to call a halt on radicalism of all kinds. If it keeps up we will all get it in the neck—or something.

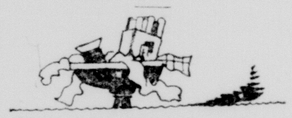
It is planned to bring prosperity to the rubber industry in this country by the elimination of unethical competition. After this is done do not expect the price of tires to be reduced. Look for them being about twice the price they are now. The rubber people are eliminating the unethical price cutters.

There are millions of birds. What becomes of 'em when they die? How many dead birds have you seen?

The coolest temperature ever found in a star is 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit, and that was probably in the look she gave a peppy chorus girl who got the critics' eye.

Will Rogers' idea of not taxing a farm if it does not pay is not a bad idea. He probably means that a farm that does not make more than it costs to operate it should be exempt. There are lots of farmers who barely make a living out of their farms and they are the ones who should have help if any help is given. Helping the farmer is one of the problems that will have to be solved. The birds who live well and do little work in the cities will have to help the farmer some day.

It never bothers the Hints and Dints man when a fellow swears a blue streak, 'cause we are color blind on that kind of stuff.



Home is a place where you find bits of thread, scraps of cloth and apple peel in the ash tray.

The fellow who insists that it is bad taste to wear diamonds never owned one.

The late and severe frosts may have put the grape crop in this section on the bum. Grapes have been raised more than ever during the past ten years as so many men like to make a lot of grape jelly every fall. Yep.

If it wasn't for the party of the first part and the party of the second part there wouldn't be any law colleges.

We are inclined to regard the statement that every fifth person in the United States owns an automobile as somewhat of an exaggeration. We'll wager only about every fifth one of those has the bill of sale in his own pocket.

A great many small fish are being put into the streams of Western Pennsylvania. They used to put many wall-eyed pike in. We supposed that all the wall-eyed pike have developed into wall-eyed pikers by this time. You sabe?

Practice makes one perfect but on a saxophone while practice is making one perfect it likewise is making a lot of other people perfectly miserable.

"Your ignorance of astronomy is amazing," volunteers a correspondent, and we know it. Our ignorance of that subject sometimes awes even us. For instance, no one has ever proved to our satisfaction that the earth isn't flat.

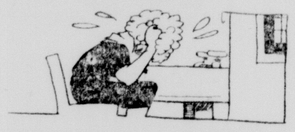
Of course if the nominees if neither the Republican or Democratic parties suit you you always have left the nominee of the Prohibition party for president of the United States.

Among the guests present at every picnic party there is always at least one Granddaddy-long-legs.

Charley Chaplin is going to give a lecture in Vienna this summer on the subject 'The Tyranny of Women." Well, Charley has been around enough of them to be able to give a fairly good account of them. However, we notice he is not going to give that lecture in this country where he will be near to some he knows pretty well.

The proof of the pudding is in the brandy sauce.

And speaking of correspondents, a number have written in to inquire what we have against spinach; but it has been our observation that not a man jack of them has ever volunteered to state what he has in favor of it.



Fable: Once upon a time a girl washed her hair and didn't mention it to anybody.

During the period of American participation in the World War, when fewer than 70,000 fatalities occurred from wounds and sickness in our expeditionary force of more than 2,000,000 men in France, practically twice that number of people were killed in avoidable accidents in this country. During this same period when fewer than 300,000 persons were wounded in the war about 3,000,000 persons were injured from accidents in the United States, most of which might have been avoided.

Some people are so stingy they hate to give three cheers when one would seem to suffice.

Bandit: Any Central American who doesn't like a boss.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day. Conduct yourself accordingly. We are practicing what we preach along that line. For many years we have spent most of Memorial Day helping veterans of the Civil War get to Greenwood cemetery and back and we think the time has been well spent. Only a few have to be taken there now on Memorial Day.

Making mountains out of molehills compels a lot of unnecessary tunneling.

Some men do not care what happens to them and neither do their wives.

If there were any police out looking for people who take wild flowers and blossoms from the hills and valleys of Lawrence county on last Sunday they surely could have arrested a lot of birds who were robbing the hills and valleys of their bloom.

The drink situation has improved a little. You seldom hear of sarsaparilla.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

One of the two girls in the car was glancing at a newspaper.

"I see", she remarked presently to her companion, "that Mr. So-and-So, the octogenarian, is dead. Now, what on earth is an octogenarian, anyway?"

"I'm sure I haven't the faintest idea," the other girl replied. "But they're an awfully sickly lot. You never hear of one but he's dying."

A rich widow in Baltimore was put into jail for 30 days for driving a car while drunk and two gallons of whisky were also found in her bus. Maybe she was lonesome.

A move is on foot in Pennsylvania for fair and honest elections. The ten dollar bill will be hard to put out of business in elections in this state.

Owe ten dollars and you're a deadbeat; owe a hundred thousand and you're a financier.

"I deem no government safe," wrote Jefferson, "which is under the vassalage of any self-constituted authorities, or any other authority than that of the nation or its regular functionaries."

Jefferson might have been writing with the Anti-Saloon League particularly in mind.

We can't imagine greater disgust than that felt by the patrons of a New speakeasy, who paid fancy prices for "real beer", when it was raided by federal agents who refused to confiscate the supply when they found it was the weakest of near-beer.

We have often wondered why some one has not invented some kind of an instrument that would tell the whereabouts of a drowned body in the water. Grappling irons seem such a crude thing. We still lack a lot of things to make life perfect.

One of New York's leading theatrical producers admitted in court that he can neither read nor write but that he understands arithmetic. Well, what more in the way of mental equipment does a modern theatrical producer want than a knowledge of arithmetic?

The "poles of cold" are not the geographical poles of the earth. The northern pole of cold is far from the North Pole at Verhoyansk, Siberia, 200 miles inland from the mouth of the Lena river. It boasts a record of 90 degrees below zero but its usual minimum during January is a mere 60 degrees below.

Garbled messages, in French and Italian, picked up by radio stations in San Francisco and elsewhere on the Pacific coast, come undoubtedly from Nobile's dirigible, Italia.

But the location of the airship was not given, and hope rests on search at random insdie the Arctic circle.

Fortunately, Gen. Nobile has provisions for a month, with sleds and as full equipment as could be carried. He and his companions are men of courage, and hope need not be abandoned for several weeks.

Can the human mind conceive anything more dramatic than those messages in two languages, coming out of the frozen North Pole region, asking for help?

Who would have dared predict such a wonder 25 years ago.

Among Democrats the Presidential nomination is settled. It's all over for Gov. Smith, except the campaign.

The question is "Who shall run for Vice President?" Some stalwart friend of the honest farmer is wanted, one that "could capitalize the Republican farmers' hostility to the President's McNary-Haugen veto."

The hostility exists. But how are you going to make a farmer, born and bred Republican vote Democratic?

The Ethiopian does not change his skin, or the leopard his spots, least of all in politics.

Change from one party to another requires independent thought, and that is painfully difficult.

H. G. Wells has a plan for management and government of this earth, with one board of directors running the whole thing.

Religions, says Wells, have run their course. Christianity, which began with "the completest communism," has become the completest capitalism.

"Take all thou hast and give to the poor," has been changed to "Get all thou canst, and devil take the hindmost."

Buddhism began in complete renunciation. Buddha let the hungry tigress eat his body. Now vilest superstition replaces Buddha's teachings and so it goes.

Mr. Wells' plan is interesting, like those of Plato, in his "Republic," Moore in his "Utopia," and Karl Marx in his book that became the foundation of modern socialism.

Each one would work as well as the other, that is to say, not at all. Yet each is useful, for it makes men think, and that is important.

The human race is an individual on a bigger scale, and it is in its infancy. It is useless to contemplate a baby two years old and plan to make a man of it in six months.

You must observe how and at what rate your race or individual can grow, then do what you can to direct and promote good growth.

The most important work now is to encourage thought and distribute knowledge. And the greatest agency is the public school.

"Give light, and the people will find their own way." Give good public schools and you give light.

Arthur Keith, heavyweight British scientist, denies the possibility of life after death. "Mind, soul and spirit are manifestations of a living brain and cease to exist when the brain dies."

Many scientists discuss that which they can't possibly understand.

F. G. Bonfils, owner and boss of the Denver Post, says:

"I am living now, and so far as I know I wasn't living a few years ago.

"If that can happen anything can happen, so why shouldn't I believing a few years or a few hundred million years from now? That's common sense. If it can happen once, it can happen twice, or a million times.

Every day, year in and year out 2,000,000 Americans are ill. The average worker loses eight days a yea through illness.

What the country needs is intelligent PREVENTION.

The A. O. Smith Company, employing several thousand men in Milwaukee, retains a staff of medical experts who business it is to examine with the greatest care and without charge and without compulsion every employe from the president down. Each is told exactly what his physical condition is and how to circumvent any illness that may threaten.

Mr. Haley Fiske's big Metropolitan Life Insurance Company started this work among its thousands of employes, in addition to advertising extremely valuable health warnings.

Many big concerns, including the Federal Reserve Bank, have followed the good example.

The most valuable men in every organization are often those most in need of warning, as shown by heart statistics.

Theron Kilander wants a good place to park his car for the 500-mile automobile race on the Indianapolis speedway tomorrow.

So, on Saturday, he parked his car at the entrance to be first inside the gate. There he waits and sleeps.

If each man took a deep interest in his own race for success as he does in somebody else's race, there would be fewer at the speedways, race tracks and baseball parks.

WHAT KEEPS PERISHABLES?

The other day a girl opened a can of figs which had been sealed eighteen years ago.

When they were packed not much was known about fig canning or any other kind, except of salmon, peas and corn.

The figs were found as sweet and juicy as when they were first excluded from the light of day. Mr. A. T. Aylesbury, chairman of the Canned Food Committee, said: "They are as sure of keeping as if they were in King Tut's tomb."

What kept these figs and prevented their decay? They were preserved indefinitely by excluding three things: air, light and heat.

Air, light and heat had made them grow; air, light and heat would have rotted them.

So the agencies of life and of decay are the same.

It is not one set of environments that makes bad men and another set that makes good men. It is usually the same set in both instances, and what operates to build one character up operates to tear another character down.

There are duties and responsibilities that are upon all of us. There are griefs and disappointments that come to us all, and moments of happiness that are ours universally.

In some cases these things make a man stronger and better, in other cases they ruin him.

The advantages of blessing and cursing are one.

"The sun, light and air
That ripen the pear,
Will blight it and curse it
When life is done."

Somebody has said that all the difference between a live organism and a dead one is that the live one eats his environment, while in the case of the dead one the environment eats him.

A dog running along the road is kept alive and vigorous by air, water and heat. A dead dog lying by the side of the road is speedily reduced to dust by air, water and heat. In one case he is utilizing these things and in the other case they are utilizing him.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOW WE ARE DIFFERENT.

Richard Wagner went to his heavenly reward a long time ago and the announcement that his widow, Frau Cosima Wagner has just celebrated the ninetieth anniversary of her birth, comes like a voice from the dead. Such is, however, the case and at the celebration of this occasion, Frau Wagner became the owner of enough champagne to last her probably for the remainder of her days.

Among the thousands who delivered messages of congratulations on her unusual birthday there was also a deputation from her home town of Beyreuth, headed by the two burgomasters and the committee of elders of the City Council. These not only brought her a goregous bouquet of flowers, but also 90 bottles of champagne.

The city fathers had learned from Frau Cosima's physician that a sip of champagne daily would be a desirable stimulant.

Europeans have some ideas queer to us Prohibitionists. For instance, the Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, is presented each Sunday with a bottle of sherry by the vestry, "For the Stomach's sake" possibly. The custom is nevertheless a very ancient one.

NEW YORK CITY

Big and busy New York city
Blend of ugly and of pretty,
Blend of splendor and of squalor,
Harbor for the weary sailor,
Gateway for the world's sad peoples,
Flinging to the sky your steeples,
Writing in your daily history
All life's joy and pain and misery!

Always when I come to visit
I am struck by scenes exquisite,
Here is everything that's human
Done on earth by man and woman,
Here is grim and stern faced duty,
Driving, striving, blind to beauty,
Here among the millions teeming
Are all things which men are dreaming.

Here they come with strange pale faces
From the far off troubled places,
Dragging in their old traditions
Blended with their fresh ambitions,
Here the richest and the gladdest
Shoulder with the worst and saddest,
Here is laughter, here is sighing,
Here each minute some are dying.

Here the sky line tells the story
Of man's constant strife for glory;
Here is Broadway with its night life
Gayly picturing our bright life,
With its dull, cold hint of warning
In the early after-morning.
Big and busy New York city
Blend of ugly and of pretty!

MORE GREAT MEN

The discussion of great persons, growing out of my reporting of a conversation on this subject a few weeks ago, is becoming more interesting. I have received many letters naming Lindbergh, Edison and Ford as the greatest living persons. But I have also a few letters that suggest that perhaps the greatest living person is not a famous man. There is food for thought in the idea.

Lila F. Hilligoss, Santa Ana, California, writes that her husband, T. H. C. Hilligoss, is the greatest living man. She doesn't say what are the attributes that make him supreme among the earth's great, but she says, "I know." She mentions proudly that her husband is a descendant of the first treasurer of the United States who served under President Washington.

I have no means of knowing whether the lady from Santa Ana has the correct data about the world's greatest man, but I certainly respect her opinion. And I congratulate her husband. If he isn't exactly the greatest man in the world, he may at least rest assured that he is one of the most fortunate.

La Leta Ashwell, Fall River, Kansas, nominates Arthur Capper, well-known senator and publisher, for first place among the great. "He stands for everything honorable and right," she says.

I said in this column recently that I was going to keep out of politics. Since the political conventions are usually coming on and Senator Capper's name usually is mentioned as suitable for presidential or vice-presidential honors at the Republican conventions, I won't go further than to say that he, too, is a mighty lucky man. I know the compliment conferred by the lady from Fall River will not swell the Senator's head. Indeed, these expressions of wholesouled admiration usually make a man feel almost perfectly humble. I think I know just how humble the Senator will feel when he reads that one of the citizens of his home state thinks him the greatest living human being, and says that he stands for everything honorable and right.

Someone who signs the initials A. F. T. writes from Sulphur Springs, Arkansas, suggesting that Evangelist John E. Brown, who is president of a school there, is the greatest man in the world. He is devoting his life to the boys and girls and improving educational standards in Arkansas. Now, I never heard of this Mr. Brown before, but that is not evidence that my correspondent may not be on the right track. The greatest living person may be in the mountains of Arkansas or in the prairie regions of Canada. I think that anyone is great who is lovingly enshrined in one human heart.

I used to believe that Longfellow was a great poet, that the League of Nations was the only force that could keep the world from immediate destruction, that discharge of explosives caused rain on the Fourth of July, that millionaires were all crooks, that ostriches hide their heads in the sand, and that the Bible said "Spare the rod and spoil the child."

Of all these beliefs I have been disillusioned. Some of them were hard to shake off. Others vanished while I slept.

But now I believe that a person who does not change his ideas and opinions as he lives from year to year is an insensate and unteachable stone. I may change this belief if I live a century and become stony and insensate.

How to make better STRAWBERRY JAM

with one minute's boiling

Certo "short-boil" method saves the fresh flavor and bright color of your fruit—makes 10 glasses of jam from 2 quarts of berries—insures success every time.

NO OTHER FRUIT, perhaps, suffers so much from the old method of long cooking as the delicate, delicious strawberry.

You need never again stand over the kettle watching your strawberries darken, their fragrant fresh flavor drift away in steam, while you "boil them down" for jam.

For with Certo you can make perfect strawberry jam with only one minute's boiling!

Certo is the natural jellifying substance in fruit which causes it to jell. Because nature has distributed this substance so unequally in the different fruits—giving very few of them enough to jellify all of their juice and causing all of them to lose it as they ripen—you have always had to go on cooking and cooking your fruit in the effort to reduce it to the point where it would jell.

Now we have extracted this jellifying substance from fruit, refined, concentrated, and bottled it, all ready for you to use with any fruit. With Certo no long cooking is necessary. It provides enough jellifying substance at the start to jell all the fruit juice.

Famous cooking expert recommends Certo

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery; and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says: "I strongly advise all housewives to make all their jams and jellies with Certo because: It's easier—Takes only one minute's boiling. Tastes better—No flavor boiled away. Better color—Not darkened by long boiling. No worry—Never fails to set. It's economical—Fifty per cent more from given amount of fruit and no waste from failures."

Get Certo from your grocer. In the recipe book which comes under the label of each bottle you will find nearly 100 simple recipes for making better looking, better tasting jams and jellies rom all the other berries and fruits in their season.

"Never-fail" recipe for crushed Strawberry Jam or Blackberry Jam

4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries
7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar
½ cup Certo.

Crush about 2 quarts of berries one layer at a time so that each berry is actually crushed or broken up to a pulp. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil, and prevents fruit rising to the top or floating. Best results are obtained by running berries through a food chopper. Measure crushed berries into a large kettle, add sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard from 1 to 2 minutes, remove from fire and stir in Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax. (This recipe as well as recipes for sliced and whole fruit strawberry jam are in the book of recipes which comes with each bottle of Certo.)

Pittsburgh Shriners Coming Here On Special Train

An enthusiastic meeting of the Lawrence Shrine Caravan No. 5, took place at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Monday evening. A large number of members and members of committees were present.

Last night about 125 petitions had been presented and more will be handed in today and tomorrow. It looks as if a class of more than 150 will be taken in at the ceremonial on June 14. Mayor Gillespie was present last night and promised ample police supervision for the night of the ceremonial.

A large delegation will come from Ellwood City, Butler, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Erie and other places. Ellwood City men reported that it is the intention of the members from that place to come in a body and instead of each member driving a car they will load cars and thus make less congestion at the Cathedral parking places. Good idea. Some of the most prominent citizens of Pennsylvania will take the degree at the ceremonial.

Syria Temple will come in a special train. The train will leave Pittsburgh at about one p. m. and reach here in an hour and twenty minutes. Delegations of local Shriners will meet the train and take the officials to the hotels.

All committees made good reports and everything is in fine shape for the big day.

Another meeting of all Shriners and committees will be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral next Monday evening at 7:30.

YIELDING GRACEFULLY.

Yielding gracefully is a sign of both good manners and character. If you have to yield a point whether it is a big or little one, why not do it in a manner that makes the other fellow think you like it? You may not fool him into believing you but at least you have proved to yourself and the world that you are no whiner.

TEST OF LOVE.

Love which carries with it no respect is not worthy of he great name of love. It is merely an emotion held in common with animals of a lower type. Respect is the lasting basis of all the love that has any durable reality to it.

NOBILITY.

Nobility is most frequently associated with majesty. We link the famous names of the past with our idea of nobility. We think of a noble man as a giant—a giant of intellect or benevolence or of great material achievement. But true nobleness has little to do with the spactacular. It may be and usually is the characteristic of the really great, but it may also characterize the peasant. Nobility belongs so often with the humble, the loyal and the courageous.

NOT AUTOMATIC.

There is nothing automatic about going up or going down. The American republic may or may not depart from its ideals and join the procession of those fallen nations of the past which have stalked across the stage of time. We are not destined by fate for anything beyond our own making. The destiny of Americans is up to America.

Just a glance over th' grade crossin' accident news on a Monday is enough t' tell anybody whether it was nice motorin' weather on Sunday.

For your breakfast and your better health

Of course, most people eat Heinz Rice Flakes for breakfast because of their crunchy goodness and their delicate, nut-like flavor.

But there is another, equally inviting, equally important reason for eating these delightful flakes of rice.

This reason is the better health, the Joy of Living, which Heinz Rice Flakes help to promote.

For, by a special, patented Heinz process, Heinz Rice Flakes are naturally "laxatized". This unique process utilizes the natural roughage of the rice itself in such a way as to impart to Heinz Rice Flakes a mild laxative quality, enabling them to assist Nature in keeping you "fit as a fiddle".

Nine-Ton Monument Will Be Dedicated First Of Next Week

Nine-ton cast stone monument which was won as a safety trophy by the New Castle plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company arrived in New Castle Monday and will be set up and dedicated some time the first of next week, according to W. H. Kleckner, general superintendent of the local plant.

New Castle plant was one of the two plants in the state to win the trophy for having no lost time accidents during the year 1927. Mr. Kleckner and Charles H. Schlicher, chief clerk, returned recently from annual meeting of cement manufacturers held at New York where members of over 100 different cement mills were present.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

THE INDIANS LASSO A GIANT

Bobolink's tale was beginning to grow interesting. He continued with only a pause for breath:

"Before wife and I could decide which way to fly from the danger that had threatened the crowd of birds and butterflies and bees, we saw a sight we shall never forget!

"There on the plain a terrific fight was going on. A huge bird—a Condor folks called him—had flown down from the snow capped mountains and was chasing a cow around and around trying to claw out her eyes.

"The poor animal was so frightened she didn't even try to defend herself, but just ran round in circles. Finally the cruel bird blinded her and the cow sank down upon the ground. Then Condor pounced upon her!

"Whatever he had intended to do, however, he didn't do. For at the instant he dropped upon his victim, out from the woods dashed a band red two-legs—Indians they were (one of the native birds told us afterward).

"And do you know what they did? They looped up long ropes and swung them around and around. Then three of them ran forward and threw the loops over Condor's head.

"The loops became smaller and smaller and before Condor could get away he was held fast by his neck by the strong ropes.

"The Indians had lassoed the giant bird, and whether you believe me or not it took all three of them to hold him. We were glad they did, though! Why, the fellow was so large and cruel there would have been no safety for smaller birds with him at large!"

"Gee willikens! What a sight that must have been! I wish I could have watched those Indians capture that bird. How strong he must have been. And as brave as he was cruel. How big did you say he was?" Peter was curious, and Bobolink was delighted to find the boy taking such an interest in his story.

"I didn't say," replied Bobolink, "but I know. We overheard one of the red two-legs say that the big bird measured over two feet from his beak to the tip of his tail and that his wing, when it was stretched out as far as it would go, was eight feet wide."

"D-d-do you sup-p-pose there are any Condors around here?" stammered a frightened voice.

Looking down, Peter noticed that Mrs. Gray Rabbit looked scared to death and her saucy son was cowering as close to his mother's side as he could get.

BEFORE CONDOR COULD GET AWAY, HE WAS HELD FAST BY THE ROPES

"If there are birds strong enough to fight and conquer a great cow, just think what they would do to us little rabbits. Why, we wouldn't have any chance at all.

Bobolink chuckled. But his wife, who had not spoken all this time, shook her head at her husband and said comfortingly to the bunnies:

"Now, don't worry, my dears. All that we are telling you happened in the land beyond the sea. There are no Condors within miles and miles of this meadow to hurt you."

"But there are Eagles," declared Bobolink suddenly, and Sonny-Bunny who had sat up at Mrs. Bobolink's words, now flopped back to the ground and again snuggled close against his mother's side.

Sunday Services Attract Many At Neshannock U. P. Church

A full house gathered at the Neshannock United Presbyterian church Sunday to hear D. L. K. Peacock both morning and evening. Meetings will continue each night this week except Saturday and will end with three meetings on next Sabbath, June 3.

A special meeting for men only will be held on next Sabbath afternoon when Dr. Peacock will preach on "The Devil's Pay-day." A large attendance is expected at this meeting as well as the other Sabbath meetings.

The first week of meetings at the church have brought out much interest, over 50 persons having rededicated their lives at the invitation of the evangelist.

Daughters Of 1812 Share Unusual Celebration Of Memorial Day Tomorrow

Local members of the Daughters of 1812 of which Mrs. Grace M. Greer is regent are greatly interested in an unusual celebration in connection with this year's Memorial Day.

In a cold, bleak and desolate, miles from railroad connection on the west coast of England, there will gather the U. S. battleship "Detroit" and several British cruisers from which will debark officers and guards of honor to attend distinguished guests from the United States and the British Isles to unveil a bronze tablet and memorial gateway erected and furnished by the United States National Society Daughters of 1812 at the entrance to the cemetery in which are buried 218 Americans who died as prisoners during the War of 1812 in the dungeons of the famous Dartmoor prison near Princetown.

Some of these heroes, forgotten for 115 years, were boys as young as 13 years of age, unable to withstand the rigors of the weather or the hardships of prison confinement.

During the term of their imprisonment, the over 3,000 American boys built a church at Princetown. Discovering this church some years ago, the Daughters of 1812 petitioned the British parliament for permission to place a memorial in the church and, this permission being granted, the Daughters of 1812 placed there a magnificent memorial window. Thereupon the British parliament, not to be outdone by a group of American patriotic women, appropriated funds for the rehabilitation of the church, which has been used as a place of worship ever since.

Among the British nobility attending the ceremonial will be Lady Astor, member of Commons and herself born an American girl, who will make an address. The British government which was invited to be officially represented through invitations to the king, the queen and the Prince of Wales will, it is anticipated, be represented by the latter under whose jurisdiction comes the Dartmoor prison.

The American party of official guests, representing President and Mrs. Coolidge who could not attend, will be naval officers and consulate officials in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope of Narbeth, Pa., the latter president national of the U. S. Daughters of 1812; Mrs. Samuel William Earle of Washington, D. C., chairman of the committee in charge of the recognition tablet, and Miss Edith Edwards of Woonsocket, R. I., honorary vice president national of the Daughters of 1812.

Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, president national of the Daughters of 1812, was the guest of the local chapter four years ago.

Consistory Dinner Next Friday Night

Many Reservations Being Received From Western Pennsylvania Towns

The next big event at the Scottish Rite cathedral will be the Consistory Dinner club dinner Friday night, to be followed by cards, a dance and entertainment.

The committee in charge expects the dinner will be a greater feature than those held in the past and being the last one to be held until next fall, it is expected it will be largely attended. Already quite a large number have sent in reservations and it is believed the crowd will be even larger than the one attending the last events.

Many from out of town will be present. Reservations have already been received from Cambridge Springs, Hydetown, Meadville, Scottdale, Oil City, Franklin, Washington, Clarion, Butler, Beaver Falls, Vandegrift, Donora and Greensburg.

The dinner takes place at 6:30 o'clock, eastern standard time, and the committee requests all those desiring to attend to send in their reservations at once so that provisions can be made for all who desire to attend.

Messrs Cole, Dickey and Pearsall are a special committee on entertainment and what this trio cannot think of to entertain is not worth thinking about. Those who attend the dinner can rest assured that the program to be carried out will be high class in every particular. There will be a laugh a second and they will be worth while laughs.

M. W. Wells is chairman of the dinner and has surrounded himself with a most excellent committee composed of D. J. Jones, Charles Morrow, R. McK. White, W. H. Kleckner, C. H. Young, W. E. Porter, Dan Wilcox, Harry C. Urmson, L. B. Round, Robert Lowery and John M. Wallace.

The Fourth Dimension

By S. S. MYERS

A reader has asked us to write an article on the Fourth Dimension, saying that he would like to know what evidence we have that there is such a thing.

Every now and then some one attempts to expatiate on the Fourth Dimention, and in doing so he overwhelms us with an avalanche of grotesque figures and fantastic images calculated to send one straight to a lunatic asylum.

The fact is we know of only three dimension. If there is a fourth dimension (and who would venture to say there isn't?), we know nothing about it except in vague theory. We know an object has three dimensions, viz: length, breadth and thickness. A room has length, width and height. If we were able to comprehend a fourth dimension we might enter or leave the room at will even though all doors and windows were securely fastened.

In order to make this column clear we must understand that we live on a globe—a round earth (notwithstanding the contention of Voliva of the so-called "Zionists" that the earth is flat). Hence we have a conception of up and down as well as north-south and east-west. Professor Simon Newcome, the great mathematition, assumed that a man living on a flat earth would comprehend only two dimentions with no sense of up or down. To him all lines would be straight. To the round earth man there are no straight lines, hence he has greater freedom.

According to this theory if we were to place a flat earth man in an inclosure, say four or five feet high, and tell him to come out, he would say, "I cannot do so. I am inclosed on all sides and there is no opening." But, we say, you are thinking of only two dimensions. Use the third dimention which will enable you to come out over the top. "I do not comprehend," says he. "I have no means of coming out over the top. I cannot walk on air."

Now let us place a round earth man in that inclosure and he will very quickly find his way out over the top. But place him in an inclosure walled up solidly on all sides and overhead and tell him to come out. He will say, "I cannot do so. I am completely walled in and I cannot emerge thru a solid wall." We say, you are thinking of only three dimensions. Come out through the fourth dimension. He replies, "I have no knowledge of a fourth dimension, so I must remain where I am."

And so it is with us round earth people. We have no comprehension of a fourth dimension, although there must be one, otherwise how did Christ suddenly appear in the midst of His disciples in that upper room where they thought themselves secure from all intrusion? How did He disappear from the midst of the mob that was going to throw Him over the cliff?

Of course life is full of mysteries, and the greatest of these is life itself. Many of the common things of today were unsolved mysteries a hundred years ago. Fifty years ago the radio was as much a mystery and as difficult to explain as is the fourth dimension today. Who can tell what the future may reveal to mankind?

Delightfully Soft—Unbelievably Comfortable

Regular price was 65c, NOW 45c
—buy it now at any dealer's

THE vast majority of women doctors and nurses would tell you, if you asked them, to employ Kotex.

For they say that too much emphasis cannot be placed on the sanitary pad one uses.

Now Kotex—supreme in the features that have brought to women a new hygiene, with attendant peace-of-mind—has been improved.

In improving Kotex we were careful to make no changes in the features women already liked. There is the same high absorbent surface. The same instant disposability. The same deodorizing. The same simplicity in making your purchase.

But after experimenting two years, we have perfected a new shape for Kotex. One not only more comfortable but which prevents awkward bulkiness to mar smooth fashionable lines.

And we have perfected a fleecy softness never known before, ending all chance of irritation—of chafing or binding.

Now, the greatly increased sale of the Kotex with these two great improvements has made it possible permanently to reduce the regular price considerably.

Now buy the Improved Kotex, at the new low price at any drug, department or dry goods store. Get it today.

Says Aviation And Insurance Are Related

Speaker Discusses Elements In Common Of Two, At Convention

Between aviation and insurance there seems to be a wide gap, but the two have some elements in common, according to Col. Harry C. Fry of Pittsburgh who said today, in an address to the insurance men in session in the Scottish Rite cathedral.

Strange as it may seem, aviation was the indirect result of a fire. In 1783 two Frenchmen, Montgolfier by name, noticed that the sparks from their fire went upwards rather rapidly. They constructed a balloon using hot air, and found that it arouse. From this small beginning the free balloon was devised. These oldtimers also had the idea that there might be poisonous gases in the upper air, so their first idea in a passenger carrying balloon was to send up a couple of convicts, who were condemned to death anyway so their loss wouldn't matter much, but this idea was vetoed by the King of France, and there were substituted for human beings, a duck, a sheep and a rooster. These were the first aerial passengers and came down safely. The ancients were not far wrong, death did lurk in the upper air, but not in poisonous gases, but from extreme cold and lack of oxygen, as was learned later. It is interesting to note that the emblem of the lighter-than-air branch of the United States army aviation, is a shield with a duck, a sheep and a rooster, and the Latin motto, which freely translated reads, "Thus we go to the star."

As to relation of aviation to insurance. No project of transportation or otherwise can be successful without the protection of Insurance. Already we have as many lines of insurance on aircraft and passengers, as there are lines on automobiles and other properties. There is insurance on the aircraft itself, fire, collision, property damage, public liability, compensation, and various other coverages. Aero transportation is so young that rates are not properly adjusted to the various risks. Time and experience will correct this. It is interesting to know that the first aviation insurance was written by a former aviator, Mr. Horatio Barber. At the present time a number of companies are specializing in this line of insurance, and the field will grow just as rapidly as aviation finance can be protected by insurance. Therefore, it behooves the average insurance man, who has his own business interest and the interest of his country at heart to boost the aviation game in his own immediate field. This can be done by helping development of aircraft and accessory factories, and perhaps to better advantage in the immediate development and establishment of air fields, air terminals and air lines. Let the insurance man be the one to organize a flying club in his district, along lines laid out by the National Aeronautic association.

Elements Of Surety In Indemnity Bond

Philadelphia Man Discusses Three Features At Convention

Segregating the elements of suretyship into three parts, Edward C. Jamison, third vice president of the Indemnity Insurance Company of Philadelphia, addressed the delegates to the Pennsylvania Days insurance convention, which is in its closing session today in the Scottish Rite Cathedral. Summing his remarks up into a brief space, Mr. Jamison said:

It is a great privilege and a great pleasure to be invited to speak to you. I have been requested to discuss briefly "The Three Parties to Suretyship; Who They Are and the Part They Play".

A surety bond is a tri-party instrument, the parties being:

First: The principal or risk.

Second: The surety or the guarantor.

Third: The obligee or the beneficiary.

While the liability of the principal and surety are identical and they are both guarantors, nevertheless, that of the principal is of a primary nature and for that reason he is primarily responsible for his defaults. The surety's obligation does not accrue until the principal defaults; therefore, its obligation is of a secondary nature.

Hence, the principal in any bond is the primary guarantor and the surety is the secondary guarantor. No liability attaches to a surety under a bond until there has been a default on the part of the principal, and theoretically a surety is not supposed to be called on to make good under a bond until an effort has been made by the obligee or beneficiary to recoup his loss or damage from the principal. This was the procedure in the days of personal suretyship and also in the early days of corporate suretyship.

As corporate suretyship grew, laws and practices were modified to meet changed conditions. Present day procedure, where a principal defaults, is for the obligee or beneficiary to notify the surety and demand immediate satisfaction under the bond. There is some reason for this present day procedure, because when a principal defaults in his obligation, whatever it may be, it is virtually notice that he is unable to respond for the damage or loss which he has occasioned his obligee.

The principal guarantor may be an employee of a mercantile house, a salesman, bank executive or a person acting in a fiduciary capacity, as for example a guardian or executor, or he may be a contractor. No relationship existing between the principal and the obligee, and the rules of law and custom governing it, is practically that of master and servant. This certainly is literally true in the case of all employees, whether they be employed by an individual, firm or corporation.

Springfield Man Makes Address

Discusses Non-Cancellable Insurance At State Convention Here

According to Walter M. Ivey, district manager of the Monarch Accident Insurance Company of Springfield, Mass., insurance men are sometimes prejudical against non-cancellable insurance. His address in part on "Non-Cancellable Insurance" delivered today in the Scottish Rite Cathedral follows:

Realizing that a great many insurance men are prejudiced on the subject of non-cancellable insurance, due largely no doubt, to the fact that through many years of hard work they have built up substantial agencies on the cancellable form of policy basis and naturally feel that any aggressive movement in favor of the non-cancellable is an assault upon their established business. Let me say in the beginning that I am in full sympathy with you. My purpose is not to try in any way to advance the interest of the non-cancellable business at the expense of any company or agent. Our interests are mutual. We are all interested in making the conditions under which we work better, better for the agent, the company and the policy holder.

I have never heard anyone claim that the non-cancellable business was not desirable from a policy holders standpoint. It is usually agreed that the theory is ideal, but impractical, from an underwriting standpoint. In order to discuss this subject as it relates to the agent and the business in general, one is forced to answer the criticisms made by the opposition and to discuss in some detail the circumstances which make non-cancellable underwriting desirable. While the health and accident business is one of the oldest forms of insurance, it is in no way standardized, differing entirely in that respect from practically all other lines.

THE DUKE BEING AWAY.

Related in "More Pot Pourri," by Mrs. Earl, an anecdote of Max Muller's:

"A certain Duke of M—, being very fond of natural history, was much interested in some emus which he possessed. Having occasion to go to town his agent wired him: "The emu has laid an egg. In your Grace's absence we have taken the largest goose we could find to hatch it."

President's Ball Features Convention Monday Night

Insurance men gathered here for the convention which is being held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral forgot policies and cancellations, premiums and acceptances on Monday night and enjoyed themselves with the carefree abandon of youth when the president's ball was held in the ball room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Headed by President William S. Diggs and his wife, a grand march was held in which all the past presidents at the convention and their wives were at the head of the line.

During a brief intermission, G. R. Dette, one of the vice-presidents of the Insurance Federation asked the dancers to pause a moment while they paid a tribute to A. C. McLean, a former president of the association who is now deceased. During this intermission, Paul A. Welsh sang "Recessional" accompanied by his wife, Anna Kent Welsh.

Present Gavels.

A pleasing feature of the evening's festivities was the presentation of gavels to all of the past presidents at the ball. The gavel handles are made of wood from the home of Betsy Ross and are a delightful memento of the tenure of office enjoyed by the men who have served as president.

The ball was in session until one o'clock and the attendance was a source of satisfaction to the retiring president, William S. Diggs, and the committee headed by Ivor M. Richards.

Tuesday Afternoon Speaker

GEORGE C. HOWE

George C. Howe, superintendent of the liability department of the Globe Indemnity company of Newark, N. J., who spoke to the insurance men now in session in the Scottish Rite cathedral. Mr. Howe spoke this afternoon, his subject being "Owners, Landlords and Tenant Coverage."

Discusses Check Forgeries

N. EDWARD BARTLETT

One of the interesting round table discussion booked today at the insurance convention in the Scottish Rite cathedral is the talk of N. Edward Bartlett, manager of the check forgery department of the Maryland Casualty company of Baltimore, Md.

Says Insurance Is Unaware Of Its Own Strength

Chicago Man Makes Address At Convention This Morning

Insurance doesn't know its own strength, according to Henry Swift Ives, vice president of the Casualty Information Clearing House of Chicago, Ill., in an address today before the insurance men who are attending the Pennsylvania Days convention in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, he said.

The institution of insurance doesn't know its strength. It is an industrial giant suffering with pigmy inhibitions. Both the companies which underwrite insurance and the agents who sell it have a well developed inferiority complex based upon a century of tradition. Even today many of them do not appreciate or sense the mighty forces they control, the power they wield or the influence they exert on economic, social and political well-being. They cannot expect others to look up to them while they mingle with the crowd and refuse to mount the pedestal of leadership which is now overcrowded by the less deserving.

For a long time insurance has been content to be regarded as a camp-follower of trade and commerce, as a cup-bearer to the processes of production and distribution, as a flunky to credit and as an attendant upon banking. Because of its modesty and its proneness to self-effacement it very naturally has been assigned to a subordinate position in the social and economic life of the world today, and has been looked upon as a tool rather than as a motive power. In the public mind it has borne the same relationship to the mechanism of civilization as the rubber tire does to the automobile—without such a shock-absorbing cushion the machine would move forward but progress would be somewhat uncomfortable.

It seems to me the time has come for the institution of insurance not only to appraise itself but to assert itself. It has never inventoried its accomplishments and the only value it has set upon its services is that indicated by its premium charges. For a long time it has been satisfied with a position in the rear of the industrial parade when it ought to have been in the front rank. Instead of lighting the way with a torch it has gone into the procession equipped with experience tables and rate manuals. It has stood by while the machine age has passed in review led by the steam engine; the electric motor; the automobile; the airplane and the radio.

It has waited its turn while all the drab things of modern commerce and all the colorful achievements of modern science have marched up the long avenue of Fame. And during all this patient loitering by the wayside it has never disturbed the proceedings by shouting, as the others passed, "If it wasn't for me you wouldn't be where you are."

AMERICANISM: Feeling an urge to contribute some money for the victims changing your mind the next day because the headlines are smaller.

A village is a place where each school teacher in turn promotes the idiot in order to git rid of him.

Pittsburgh Man Makes Address

G. A. PRICE

Gwilym A. Price of Pittsburgh, well known in New Castle, will be one of the Round Table speakers at this afternoon's session of the Insurance Federation convention in the Cathedral. Mr. Price who is associated with the Peoples Savings and Trust Company of Pittsburgh will speak on "Insurance Trusts."

Young Interne Is Slightly Improved

Young Chicago Doctor Gamely Battles Death From Peritonitis Infection

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 29.—Dr. Clyde Jensen, 26-year-old interne at the Presbyterian hospital, was reported as slightly improved today in his fight against a streptococus infection, incurred while assisting at a post mortem examination.

During the early stages of the infection, while conscious, the young physician directed the fight for his life. He kept tab on his pulse and signaled for stimulants at the approach of a crisis.

Dr. Asa Bacon, superintendent of the hospital, declared the young doctor's chances for recovery, despite his iron will, are slight.

Discusses Health; Accident Insurance

L. C. JEFFREY

The underwriting of health and accident insurance came in for a rather thorough discussion today in the Scottish Rite Cathedral when Lon C. Jeffrey, president of the Lon C. Jeffrey Company of Pittsburgh, addressed the insurance men in session in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, on that subject. In his address he said:

We are assembled here to discuss and be addressed on, in my estimation, one of the very important lines of our business; namely, accident and health insurance.

It is important from a standpoint of direct personal value protection to the insuring public and important to the company underwriters, owing to the extensive volume in premiums which exceeds by far in gross premiums written any other one casualty line of insurance. It is, therefore, naturally important to we agents for the opportunity to render a real personal service and the commissions we receive for so doing.

The total volume of accident and health premiums for the year 1927, excluding that written by assessment and mutual companies, exceeded $170,000,000, of which approximately $85,000,000, or 5 per cent, was returned to the insureds in weekly indemnity or lump sum payments.

This constitutes a very distinct personal protective service on the part of the companies, the underwriters and the vast number of agents so engaged in business.

Last Chance To Join Civic Music Association; Campaign Ends Tonight

"Are you a member of the New Castle Civic Music association?" is the question the officers and coworkers are asking the citizens of New Castle and the surrounding community today in the final clean-up drive of the campaign which will end this evening at ten o'clock at campaign headquarters, 114 North Mercer street.

"There is still time to affiliate with this Civic Music association if you are not already a member," declares Herbert Pearis, president of the association. "At least three concerts will be presented next fall and winter".

Special pleas are made by the leaders to all who have not signed up for membership in the organization to do so at once to insure the permanancy of music in New Castle.

Memberships continue to be turned in at headquarters, and if New Castle is to do what every other city in the national organization does, the number of memberships will be doubled on the closing day, thus insuring a local association of well over 1,000 members, is the opinion of William S. Wright, of the national headquarters who has handled a large percentage of the campaigns.

In a final warning, Dr. C. J. Williamson, general chairman of the campaign, declares that only a membership card will admit one to any of the Civic Music association concerts. These cards are transferrable. Dr. Williamson also states that no single admissions will be sold to any of the concerts on the course.

Mr. Wright and Mr. Pearis spoke before the New Wilmington Rotary club Monday evening, and at the close of their talk, W. W. Campbell president of the New Wilmington club and campaign chairman of New Wilmington, assured Mr. Pearis of a large number of memberships from their community.

Mr. Wright expects to spend Memorial Day in New Castle, and then will leave for Jamestown, N. Y. where he will open another campaign Monday evening.

Through an oversight of the general committee, Mrs. Charles Morrow is announced as vice chairman at Wampum instead of Mrs. Charles Repman.

Make Progress On Plans For Bridge

Ordinance Provides For Securing Land Needed For Approach To Structure

Councilmen during formal session at the city building today took another step toward the construction of a bridge across the Neshannock river, from Neshannock avenue to Croton avenue by reporting favorably from committee an ordinance providing for the widening of North street at Neshannock avenue.

The ordanance condemns 28 feet of land belonging to J. R. Hodge and the bill provides for a 67 foot street, 40 foot cartway and 13½ feet for sidewalks. The point to be widened at North is at the intersection of Neshannock avenue and North streets.

It was stated during council session that county commissioners' solicitor James Lockhart and City Solicitor White are to confer soon and it was intimated that the county is favorable to the plans for the bridge.

Another fault of enthusiasm is its trick of making an idiocy seem an idea.

West Virginians At Polls Today In Primary Vote

Heated Contests Mark West Virginia Primary; Hoover Opposed By Goff

FULL STATE TICKET UP FOR NOMINATION

Governor Al Smith Is Opposed By Senator Reed In Democratic Contest

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, West Va., May 29.—West Virginians trooped to the polls today to settle one of the hottest primary elections fights of recent years.

On the Republican side Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover has invaded the state against Senator Guy D. Goff., the favorite son candidate. Nineteen votes at Kansas City are at stake.

Gov. Al Smith of New York is opposed by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri for the 16 votes to Houston.

In addition there are full state tickets up for nomination.

This is the third state in which Hoover has fought a favorite son. He won in Ohio, but lost in Indiana. His backers claim West Virginia although a close vote is anticipated.

Today's election will wind up the Republican primaries. For that reason the results are being closely watched. A victory for Hoover would bring his total claimed, pledged and instructed delegates close to 500, not far short of the nomination.

A defeat would greatly encourage "The Allies" against Hoover observers believed Smith will defeat Reed as he did in California and Oregon.

Council Makes Favorable Report

Council reported favorably from committee, during council session today a bill authorizing an ejector station in the lower seventh ward, construction of a sanitary sewer in Ashland avenue, Liberty street, Clayton street and Wayne avenue which will run through private lands and also for the reconstruction of the sanitary sewer in Cedar and Wayne streets.

The land to be occupied by the new ejector station was purchased by the city for $150. When the new station is completely built it is estimated it will have cost $10,000.

It will act as an ejector in draining a section not now drained and will also drain the section served by the present ejector station which will be discontinued.

Will Award Christian Flag To Women's Adult Class At Convention Here June 4

Indications are that there will be a great gathering of Sabbath school workers at the Scottish Rite cathedral for the 90th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, and nothing is being left undone by the committees in making this a highly successful occasion. The program, the music and singing, the accommodations and facilities for a convention—all are of the best and delegates from the city and county will spend a day replete with inspiration, instruction and wholesome enjoyment. Every man or woman who calls at the cathedral and registers will be a regular accredited delegate and there is no charge whatever for registration. The public at large is invited to all of the sessions.

The morning session starts at 9:30 with registration, and those who enter the cathedral auditorium will be greeted with a large banner across the front of the state containing the convention theme, "The Way, the Truth and the Life." The convention song which will be announced by the director of music, John W. Owens, and which was written especially for this theme, will be used throughout the convention. The convention sermon will be delivered by Rev. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First U. P. church of this city, after which Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, haed of the religious education and English Bible department of Gettysburg seminary, will deliver an address on "The Essentials of Leadership. Delegates will miss a splendid part of the day's program if they do not come early for the morning sessions.

The afternoon session will contain three outstanding addresses. Rev. F. B. McAllister speaks on the subject "The Spider's Mistake", which is a vital message on America's greatest need. Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer will give an appealing and heart-reaching study of the boy and the subject of this address will be "Today's Needs". This is one of Dr. Fischer's strongest addresses. The state young people's superintendent, Rev. E. H. Bonsall, Jr., will give an address on "The Challenge of Youth", which will be especially appreciated by those interested in young people's problems. At this afternoon session the women's adult classes of the counties are urged to sit together in classes, and the class having the best percentage of attendance will be given special recognition and awarded a Christian flag. Of course the men are also fully as welcome at this session, but they need not sit together as the men's adult classes sit together at the evening session. A Christian flag will also be awarded to the men's class in the evening having the largest percentage of attendance. It is suggested that wherever possible the adult classes meet at their own class rooms and march to the cathedral together. Should they not wish to do this, they could arrange for a meeting place at the cathedral prior to going into the auditorium in a body.

The evening session will be devoted chiefly to the inspirational address to be given by Rev. F. B. McAllister on the subject "A Harp in Hock". At previous occasions when Rev. McAllister has given this address the auditoriums have been so crowded that many have been turned away. However, with the ample seating capacity of the cathedral auditorium it is anticipated that all will be comfortably taken care of, although it has been suggested that those attending come early. The evening session starts at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time.

WASN'T INTENDED TO BEAUTIFY PEOPLE, BUT IT DOES

Remarkable Results Follow the Taking of the Wonderful World's Tonic

"For years I had suffered from indigestion. The effects were marked, for while I am yet a young woman, I grew painfully thin, the color left my skin, and it became sallow and ugly, and my eyes lost their sparkle and grew so weak I had to wear glasses.

"Nobody seemed able to tell me what was the matter, and I didn't feel like going out with other young people at all. Finally my grocer told me he had been wonderfully helped by World's Tonic, and urged me to get a bottle. He said he thought I had catarrh. I guess he was right, for about the first effect of this wonderful medicine was to clear up my head. In a few days my appetite increased, and I felt much better. After two bottles my skin began to clear up, and the pink showed through. At the end of three bottles I commenced to gain in weight.

"Now people comment on my improvement. My skin is clear and rosy, my eyes are bright, and I have gained twenty pounds. I didn't commence World's Tonic as a beautifier, but in addition to relieving my catarrh, it has done more for me than all the face creams, mud packs, etc., that I have ever used.

That is the story told by a young woman who visited Smith's drug store Monday.

World's Tonic will help you. It is sold by Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other reliable druggists. (276)

Putting Y Camp Into Shape For Summer Season

To complete work on the Y. M. C. A. summer camp, located on the Slippery Rock creek, four assistant secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. spent Monday at the site.

The baseball field is in fine shape, they report, as well as the basketball and tennis courts. Camp will open July 5 and continue until August 2, being divided into two two week periods, one for younger boys and another for those who are older. Both divisions will be oversubscribed by the beginning of the camping season.

The secretaries who worked on the camp Monday are Walter E. Kirker, John C. Leonard, Paul Arow and Henry McNicholas.

Publishers To Have Annual Park Gathering

Publishers and newspapermen of northwestern Pennsylvania will be the guests of Henry O. Holcomb at the Conneaut Lake newspaper outing June 2 and 3. It will be the tenth annual convention and the association members will convene at the Hotel Conneaut. James B. Borland, Franklin News-Herald, is president and M. E. Barton, Conneaut Lake Breeze, is secretary of the association. The outing will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fritz of this city.

The installment plan is best. You can't make the third payment and the man takes it back so your house doesn't get cluttered up with junk.

Take a Spring Tonic

for a very GOOD REASON

You feel sluggish—lack pep—appetite gone, you do not care to eat when you should enjoy your meals—pimples and boils may appear. You need an alterative tonic.

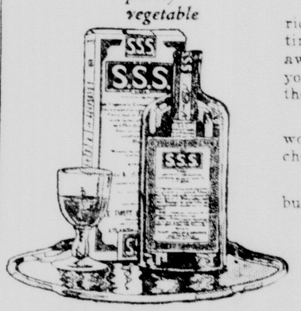
Why it should be S.S.S.

Because S.S.S. is the one remedy tested by time and perfected by science, which has been demonstrated by the experience of literally millions of satisfied users and by scientific tests in clinical laboratories to increase the appetite and build up to normal the count of red cells in the blood. This is the true basis of health and strength—the bright eyes, the clear unblemished skin, the glow and joy of bodily vigor, and resistance to disease.

POISON-OAK
(Poison Ivy—Thunderwood)

We believe that S.S.S. will cure acute cases of poison-oak poisoning and will build up an immunity against further attacks. This belief is based on scientific reasons and is confirmed by such experience in actual cases as we have been able to collect. But we wish to be sure of success in all cases before beginning to advertise it as a specific for this ailment. Try it and write us your experience.

—purely vegetable



When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. The double size is more economical.

Two Girl Radium Victims Offer To Aid Scientists

Two Of Five Doomed Radium Girl Workers Offer Living Bodies To Science

Plan To Start Suits Of Five Girls For Million And Quarter On Thursday

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 29.—Two of the five New Jersey girls who are said to be doomed to die of radium poisoning, contracted while they were in the employ of the United States radium corporation at Orange, N. J., today had volunteered to submit to scientific experiments in the hope that a cure may be found for the dreaded malady.

They are Miss Katherine Schaub, of Newark, and Mrs. Edna Hussman, of Hillside. Bodies of radium poisoned persons have been examined and experimented on frequently after death. But never have scientists been given reign in cases of living victims.

"I will submit willingly to experiments when Dr. Robert E. Humphries, of Orthopaedic hospital, Orange, says the word," said Mrs. Hussman today. "I am under his care and I do what he advises."

Damage suits aggregating $1,250,000 filed against the company by Miss Schaub; Mrs. Hussman and the three other plaintiffs, Miss Grace Fryer, Mrs. Quinta McDonald and Mrs. Albina Larice, are expected to go to joint trial on Thursday before Supreme Court Justice W. F. Mountain in Newark. Written notification to this effect, it was said, has been dispatched to opposing counsel by Judge Mountain.

Seek Separate Trials

Raymond H. Berry, attorney for the girls, is battling for separate trials. Each girl is suing for $250,000. They say they hope that justice will come to their aid quickly so that they can make some use of the money before they die. Science at present has no cure for radium poisoning.

The girl victims declare that their work at the radium plant consisted of painting watch dials with a luminous substance, and that it was their practice to bring the small brush they used to a point with the tip of the tongue. Thus they were poisoned.

Fourteen deaths, it is claimed, have been traced to the dreaded malady. Many girls beside those suing the company are said to have been taught the lip-wetting method of pointing the brush by Miss Schaub.

Mrs. Hussman, a gentle little blonde of 26, lives in a pretty home in Hillside with her husband, a plumber. Attorney Berry wants her case tried first, contending it is more urgent than the others.

At her home today she was swathed in blankets on a couch. A dentist had just extracted two of her teeth. Radium not only seeps through the body and bones but it attacks the structure of the jaw. She has to use crutches if she keeps on her feet any length of time. She worked in the plant longer than the other four girls—from June, 1917, until February, 1922, when she left to become a bride.

Taking an airplane out four days after a kidnaping to look for the missing child might strike some folks as the height of folly.

Chisholm Given Life Term For Deaths Of Sons

Canadian War Veteran Who Induced Sons To Jump In Canal Gets Life Sentence

(International News Service)

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 29.—George Allen Chisholm, Canadian veteran of the World war, was to be taken to Michigan City to begin a life sentence for the murder of his two little sons.

In over-ruling the state's demand for the electric chair, Judge Grant Crumpacker, who sentenced Chisholm following his plea of guilty, said:

"This man could not have been normal. No man in his right mind could have killed his own sons."

Chisholm's confession, wherein he admitted having induced his boys to jump into the Indiana Harbor ship canal after tying iron weights to their bodies, was read in court.

The defense argued Chisholm's mind was disordered as a result of shell shock during the war.

The work of the Optometrist comprises but two duties—the detection and correction of errors of vision.

And because so large a percentage of the public require the services of the Optometrist, Optometry could be of much more benefit to the public than it is. At least 50 percent of the public require an eye service, though in many cases these persons are not aware of the fact. We are speaking only of errors of vision which the Optometrist could correct.

Nerves Quieted, She Now Enjoys Restful Sleep

Local Lady Says Ten Herbs Ended Aches And Pains And Benefitted Stomach.

"Three bottles of Ten Herbs caused a great improvement in my health," was the statement of Mrs. Laura Shaffer, 130½ Quest Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Sastle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful new herbal medicine to crowds of people.

MRS. LAURA SHAFFER

"Before I used Ten Herbs, I felt tired and worn-out most of the time," Mrs. Shaffer continued. "I had pains in my arms and head, and was constipated at times. My stomach was in such a condition that I could not eat certain things without having great distress. I was so nervous I could not sleep well. My appetite was poor; and I could hardly do my work.

"After reading in the paper about Ten Herbs, I started to use your medicine. As a result, my nerves are in good condition, and I enjoy sound, restful sleep. I am free of headaches and pains in arms and head. My bowels are regular, and that tired-worn-out feeling has left me. I can eat anything without having distress, as my stomach is in good condition. My health has been improved so much, that I do not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

Many in this section have been restored to normal health and strength by using the great herbal compound, Ten Herbs, and the demand for it continues to grow greater every day. Its sensational success elsewhere is being repeated in this city. Ten Herbs thoroughly cleanses the clogged-up system—drives out the waste matter, gases and impurities, which often cause so much pain and misery. It benefits and invigorates the sluggish stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, usually making one feel better in every way. Every claim made for Ten Herbs is backed by a mass of evidence on file, including statements of local people.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Italian Students Threaten Violence Before Legation

(International News Service)

ROME, May 29.—Incensed by the anti-Italian demonstrations recently staged in Jugo-Slavia, 1,500 university students today surged about the front of the Jugo-Slavian legation quarters and serious consequences were prevented only by the timely arrival of police.

Just as it seemed certain that the student mob would invade the legation, mounted police arrived on the scene and dispersed the students by charging into them.

Premier Mussolini has instructed the Italian minister at Belgrade to lodge a formal protest against the anti-Italian demonstrations with the Jugo-Slavian government, and demand reparations.

River Tonnage Is Showing Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—The increase in tonnage on the Allegheny and Ohio rivers in the Pittsburgh district was far in excess of the loss in tonnage on the Monongahela during the month of April, the report of federal engineers on file here showed today.

Whereas the Monongahela river carried 362,935 tons less than during the first month of the year, the Allegheny showed an increase of 150,000 tons ,and the Ohio increased more than 225,000 tons, the figures showed.

On the Allegheny river, coal tonnage was 101,800; coke, 23,300; gravel, 58,550; sand, $50,730; iron and steel, 470, and other commodities, 4,120, for a total of 238,970 tons.

This compared with a total of 1,964,311 tons on the Monongahela, and 772,624 tons on the Ohio.

Perhaps the easiest way to work up from the bottom is to be a relative of the wife of the boss.

The one-horse shay came to an end all at once. Many modern vehicles achieve the same spectacular finale.

The speaker of the day, Congressman J. Howard Swick, will be introduced by C. A. Martin. At the close of his address there will be another selection by the school orchestra; a ritual by the Sons of Union Veterans, a firing volley by the squad concluding with taps.

The auxiliary members will decorate the graves of the departed soldiers and marines in the cemeteries of the community. This part of the celebration is in the hands of Mrs. Oscar Hooker and her committee.

Senior Play Is Most Successful

Exciting Plot Built Around Police-Guarded Apartment Is 1928 Offering Here

Pretty Gowns And Clever Acting Mark "A Full House" Presentation

ELLWOOD CITY, May 29.—The annual Senior play was presented before a crowded house Monday evening in the Liberty theater. The afternoon performance, which was in the nature of a dress rehearsal, was for the benefit of the school children who thronged the lower floors and balcony and obligingly clapped and whistled the efforts of the two-a-day actors for yesterday.

The play opens with the little bride, a part taken very capably by Miss Ila Nichols, bemoaning the fact that her husband has been gone four days, leaving her immediately after the ceremony, and she hasn't heard from him. Her aunt, Mrs. Winnecker, played very convincingly by Miss Muriel Bourne with white hair and a matronly air, decries the absent husband in no uncertain terms.

Two sets of romance flourish in the action, that of the bride and groom and also of Daphne Charters and Ned Pembroke, played well by Miss Mary Wooster and Francis Keller. It seems that Pembroke had a sub-rosa affair with a petit brunet in Boston named Vera Vernon, and wishes to regain possession of damaging poetical letters written in the past, so that he can woo and wed the charming Daphne. The absent groom, who is revealed as Frank Zeigler, goes to get the letters in his role of attorney, and becomes mixed up in a complicated jewel robbery through an exchange of bags on the train homeward.

The title of the play, "A Full House," becomes really a fact when the police guard the place, permitting any who wish, to enter but no one to leave. The melee which finally occurs includes "Susie" the dumb parlor maid from Sioux City who carries the loot about in her chiffon stocking for at least two acts, expecting the reward, Mrs. Flemming, owner of the apartment, and played well by Miss Helen Brown; Daphne, Ned, the bride and groom, to say nothing of the irate Auntie, three policemen, the dodging crook who poses as a detective, and is seeking to recover his lost loot, and Mrs. Pembroke (Irene Ross) who comes to recover same. Donald Parkinson makes a particularly appealing police sergeant, assisted by Hubert Slocum and Lawrence Dinley. The little maid, (Miss Jackson,) is clever in her role, and seems at home on the stage. Miss Ila Nicholls as the bereft and misunderstanding bride put on a very creditable performance, and the entire cast was so well-balanced as to reflect much credit on the part of Miss Lucille Gibson of the English department, who directed the production.

But to get back to the action, the house is very full with various characters dodging each other, and the erstwhile detective finally fishing the missing jewels out of Susie's back with his cold hands. He succeeds in bagging the reward from the grateful Mrs. Pembroke, only to have the policemen discover that his badge of authority proves to be a discarded dog license. The little mischief-maker, Vera Vernon, played by Miss Helen Bemas, appeared briefly but eloquently in the last act, wearing a subtle red and black vampish ensemble. Miss Irene Ross, as the wealthy Mrs. Pembdoke was well-cast, in fact all of them, from Parkers, the inevitable English servant, to Clancy, the policeman, showed keen appreciation of their roles, and the entire three acts held the interest of the entire audience.

Rev. Stump Speaker At Anniversary Of Home Church

Is Attending Hundredth Anniversary Exercises Of Lutheran Church At Maxatawny, Penna

Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of this city, is attending the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Reformed and Lutheran congregations of Zion's Union church at Maxatawney, Pa., and the dedication of a $6,000 Moeller pipe organ which opened May 27 and will continue until June 1.

This church, which was Rev. Stump's home church, was organized in 1828, the original ground for the church building being donated by his great-grandfather.

There are at the present time nine active ministers, sons of the congregation, who will be the speakers at the anniversary services. Rev. Stump will speak on Thursday evening.

A number of ministers of the church have had much to do in the life of Rev. Stump, namely, in the performance of the wedding ceremony of his parents, his confirmation and his own marriage.

Rev. Stump will also attend the commencement exercises of Muhlenberg college at Allentown of which he is a graduate, on June 1, and the 20th reunion of his class on May 31.

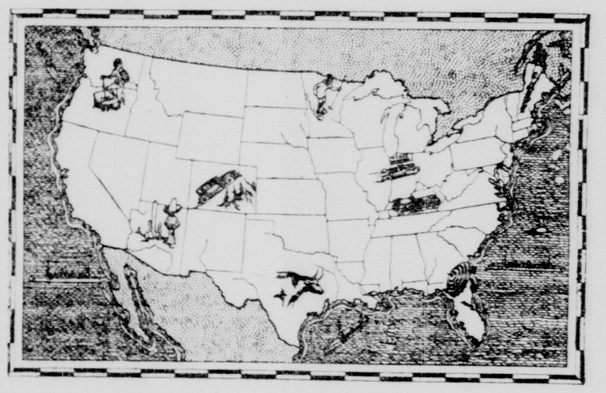
Tested . . .
from Maine to Arizona for Power, Speed and Endurance



LONG ago, Hupmobile engineers found that the rigorous tests provided by Nature under varied climatic conditions far exceed those imposed by factory proving grounds. That is why every new Hupmobile model is tested in the field—on real mountains and under all atmospheric conditions from coast to coast. Maine and Minnesota give the sub-zero temperatures that prove efficiency of starting and lubricating systems. Uniontown Hill and Pike's Peak make strenuous demands on power and axle gearing. Cooling is checked at 120 degrees in Arizona; carburetion in Colorado's high altitudes and at sea-level in Florida. Thus, no matter where you live or drive, Hupmobile engineers have preceded you. One more reason why Hupmobile performance and stamina continue to win thousands of new owners from the ranks of those who formerly paid far more for equal luxury and dependability.

RETURNING TO HIS NATIVE LAND, GRANT DECIDED TO GO INTO BUSINESS, AND FORMED A PARTNERSHIP WITH ANOTHER MAN IN NEW YORK CITY. THE BUSINESS, HOWEVER, FAILED MISERABLY, AND GRANT LOST ALL THE MONEY HE HAD SAVED.

'Cents' Play Beaver Falls Memorial Day

Play First Tilt Here In Morning

Beaver Falls May Find Morley In Opposite Role To Pearson

AFTERNOON TILT AT BEAVER FALLS

New Castle and Beaver Falls are scheduled to play a twin bill Decoration day, the first being carded in the morning for Centennial field and the second portion of the bill being slated for Beaver Falls.

On account of the intense rivalry that prevails between the aggregation and the fact that some of the Beaver Falls players were rather hot beneath the chin when they were beaten here a week ago a large turnout is anticipated.

The Centennials have been sailing through the O. & P. circuit with the velocity of a hurricane and they stand at the top of the league. According to the news that drifts around the O. & P. rialto the Beaver Falls team is the most likely bet to oppose the Centennials in the windup of the first half of the pennant race. They have some good hitters and good hurlers and the best of the latter, Johnny Pearson is apt to hurl here.

Should Pearson be selected it looks as though Manager George Textor who obviously knows what it is all about in the loop, will send Morley to the mound providing he doesn't pitch today in an exhibition game. The Centennials, however, have other good hurlers and with Textor anxious to set the Beaver Falls aggregation down three straight and with all of Textor's players hitting at a fast clip Pearson will have difficulty winning the first game.

The game will start at 10 a. m. with Warner acting as umpire-in-chief.

Hofmeister Hurls Perfect Game And Stars Are Beaten

Jada Hofmeister Pitches No-Hit No-Run Game Against Radiator Colored Stars

Jada Hofmeister was in rare form last night at the Edenburg field and turned in the first no-hit, no-run game of the year in the Lawrence County Twilight league. The victims were the Radiator Colored Stars. The score was 13 to 0.

Not a Colored Star player would have reached first base except for the fact that Hofmeister walked two men, he also fanned six batters. H. Bradley and Gray divided pitching duties for the Stars and were found for nine hits.

The Edenburg team staged a holocaust in the third inning and before the inning was ended they had shoved 12 runs over the plate. Huff and Rogers had extra-base hits.

The Edenburg team by their victory went into first place in the National section of the Twilight league.

Junior League

The Keystones defeated the North Hill team 8 to 1 in a Junior Recreation League game played at the P. & L. E. grounds. The pitching of Majocha was a feature, as he allowed but three hits, and in addition helped out a double and tallied a run. The game was loosely played with seven errors being chalked up.

Let George Do It — By Feg Murray

Here is a young man who lives up to his middle name, which is Ernest. From the sandlots of Cleveland into a major league uniform he jumped in 1919 when he was twenty-one years old, and since that time he has been a hard and earnest worker, toiling diligently at his trade of pitching for the Cleveland Indians. Starting with ten games won in 1919 as against five lost, George Ernest Uhle gradually worked his percentage up to 26 victories and 16 defeats in 1923. The following year he slumped, picked up a bit in '25, and 1926 saw him come into his own again with 27 wins and only 11 losses.

I mention his record of two years ago in detail because every fan is interested in whether or not George Uhle is going to equal that mark again this year. Uhle, in 1926 won the most games of any league hurler, took part in the most innings, and struck out 160 men, being second only to Lefty Grove of the Athletics in that respect. He also had an earned run average of 2.83, the lowest he'd ever made. In 1927, handicapped by illness, he won only eight games and lost nine. Now he is back in fine form again, and, with Grove, Walberg, Pennock and Pipgras, is setting a far better record in the American league than any National league hurler.

On May 8th of this year, Uhle, who beat the Yanks six straight times in 1926, shut out the champions 3 to 0 with only four hits. On May 13th he pitched a one-hit shut out against the Athletics, and on May 17th he defeated the Senators 8 to 3, batting in four runs himself. The big Cleveland right-hander has always been a powerful batter, and hit the ball on the nose for a .300 average for several years.

When they have baseball under the arc lights:

"You're just a little fly-by-night," said the outfielder, as he grabbed off the Texas leaguer during evening practice.

Tri-State College Track Teams Ready For Meet Tomorrow

Geneva College To Play Host To Annual Tri-State Conference Meet Wednesday

Expect Numerous Records To Fall As Athletes Gather For Big Event Of Year

Geneva is ready to be host to the schools of the Tri-State Conference in the annual conference championships tomorrow.

A bumper entry list has been received and an interesting meet is assured, with all events closely contested. No less than seven record-holders will defend their marks. They are Piper, Geneva, in the half mile; Mirtz, Westminster, in the mile; Lloyd, Geneva, in the low hurdles; Friedman, Geneva, in the javelin; Elliott, Bethany, in the broad jump and pole vault; Baird, Geneva, and Hutchinson, Westminster, co-holders in the high jump. All records are in danger, both from these men and new aspirants expected in the dashes, two-mile, shot and discuss. Two tri-state district record holders will be in competition in Lathem, hurdler, and Friedman, javelin. Meet Director Edgecombe has secured competent officials to handle the meet. M. R. Glover, referee; E. Y. Calvin, starter; Brown Sterrett, clerk of course; Hugh Lambie, head trainer; Prof. Lee, track judge; Prof. McEuen and Prof. Burrowes of Grove City, field judges.

All conference schools have a full team entered. Duquesne and Thiel are known to be weak. Waynesburg has strength in the field. The track events will be hotly contested by the representatives of Bethany, Geneva and Westminster. Geneva is strong in the field events and this edge makes the Covenanters favorites to win the championship for the fourth consecutive time.

The preliminaries in the high hurdles, 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash start at one o'clock. The finals start at two o'clock. The Beaver valley is on daylight saving time

Cen. Presbyterians Take Easy Victory

The Central Presbyterians with Fraiser pitching a three-hit game defeated the Grace-Congregational team at Scotland Lane field on Monday night by a score of 7 to 1. The game was a six inning affair.

The Presbyterians jumped on Jones in the first inning for enough hits to produce four runs and came back in the third with a pair of runs. The Grace-Congregational team had seven errors in the field.

Fraiser in addition to pitching a fine game hammered out a home run, and a triple, scoring two runs himself and driving in several others. Buckingham and Barnes hit timely, for the winners.

Twilight League Teams To Engage In Exhibitions

Memorial Day Will Be Unusually Quiet In Twilight League Circles

Tomorrow, Memorial Day, is going to be an unusually quiet day for the Twilight League. So far as is known there are but two exhibition games scheduled. There are no regularly scheduled games for tomorrow.

The league program has been so arranged this year that the players may for the most part have all of the holidays to themselves. It is always a rather hard job to get a group of ball players together on a holiday, and for that reason the teams will be idle.

At Hillsville tomorrow afternoon the Italian A. C. will meet the Hillsville team in an exhibition game. The game will be part of a twin bill, the morning game at 10 o'clock at the Sampson street field and the afternoon game at the Radiator field. The afternoon game starts at three o'clock.

Twenty-Four Cans Are Received By Association From Erie

Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association has received another consignment of fish which were distributed in the various streams of the county yesterday. Twenty-four cans of wall-eyed pike were received from the Erie hatchery. George Brown, James Dygart, Wilson Carr, Charles Withers of New Castle and John Hoffmaster, Edenburg, distributed the fish.

In the old days an examination was required for admission to the bar, but it wasn't made through a little round hole in the door.

Gormley Will Retire On Thursday After 53 Years On Railroad

Over 53 years of railroading, nearly 40 of them being spent as conductor in the yards of New Castle and Lawrence Junction is the record of L. H. Gormley, who will be retired from active service as a conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad on May 31.

Mr. Gormley was born in New Castle on May 29, 1858 and today is celebrating his 70th birthday.

He started at the age of 17 to work on the Pennsylvania railroad with a section gang and ever since has been connected with railroad work.

In 1877 and 1878 he worked with the P. and L. E. company as engineer and in 1879 was with the Cleveland and Terminal Valley which is now the B. and O.

On April 1, 1880 Mr. Gormley states he started to work as brakeman with the Pennsylvania and in 1882 went to the B. and O., but returned to the Pennsylvania on April 2, 1889 and was promoted to conductor on July 13, 1890, and since that time has worked as conductor in the Pennsylvania yards at Lawrence Junction, Mahonington and the New Castle yards.

Mr. Gormley, who is known to the "boys" as "Cully" says that railroading has changed a great deal in the past 50 years. In the days when he first worked as brakeman under Conductor Archie Reed back in 1880 all freight cars were made of wood and held about ten tons but now cars with a capacity of 70 tons or more have trucks that weigh more than a whole car did in those days. There were no air brakes and the couplers were all of the link and pin type and many accidents happened in those days, many lost arms or legs and death often resulted because of accident. But Mr. Gormley says that he never was in much of a wreck or received any injuries except what would permit him to get back to work within a few days.

When asked how he expected to spend his time after retired from active service the veteran railroader said that he thought a great part of his time would be spent in travel and he enjoyed fishing. As to hunting he says he never cared much for the sport, not being able to handle a gun as he would like.

Gross And Conroy Ready For Battle

Mike Conroy of Rochester, N. Y., and Jake Gross of Philadelphia, heavyweight battlers, are ready for their bout tonight at Idora park, Youngstown, in the initial outdoor show of the season staged by Al Zill.

The bout tonight will have an important bearing on the heavyweight situation as both men are regarded as promising. There is a fine preliminary card supporting the show. The first bout is at 8:15 o'clock. Gross recently defeated Sandy Seifert in Madison Square Garden. Conroy holds a victory over Johnny Urban, the Brooklyn slugger.

CONNIE MACK'S SWAT PROTEGE

Jimmy Foxx, catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, has prospects, diamond experts agree, on succeeding Babe Ruth as home run king. While Jimmy is not yet 21, he is learning the art of hitting under the tutelage of Connie Mack and has been used effectively as a pinch hitter in several games, crashing out a circuit drive in a recent game between the Athletics and Cleveland Indians to break up the contest.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 29.—In their effort to stem the tide of speculative selling bullish forces in the stock market today stood squarely behind their speculative favorites. Chrysler Motors gave a strong "demonstration" at the opening, when a block of 25,000 shares sold at 84, compared with yesterday's close at 80, and an advance of nearly 30 points from the low of the year. General Motors and Radio made moderate advances in active trading in the first hour, but were under severe selling pressure in the second.

The 6½ per cent call loan rate announced near the close of Monday's session failed to precipitate any great volume of outside selling of popular stocks and "margin protection" at the brokerage houses was sufficient to forestall the wholesale selling of stocks for traders unable to protect themselves. Bullish forces rallied sharply behind a number of their favorites, and the market on the whole gave a good account of itself in this period.

The motor stocks and the specialties monopolized the spot-light in this second period. Airplane stocks, after an early reaction, recovered the bulk of their losses. Dodge Motors and the preferred stock moved upward sharply. Commodity markets were irregular with narrow price changes.

Toledo Girl Is Brutally Slain; Manhunt Starts

Greatest Manhunt In History Of Toledo Begins As Tragic Death Is Reported

CHILD ABDUCTED FROM BEDROOM

Fiend Assaults Girl And Hurls Dead Body On Porch Of Grandparents

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., May 29.—One of the greatest man hunts organized in years began here today when the lifeless body of seven-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski was found by her father Alex on the front porch of the home of the child's grandparents. The girl had been stolen from her bed, brutally assaulted by the driver of a small dark auto, choked to death and her body cast upon the porch of her grandparents who lived a few step's from the girl's home.

The little victim was stolen from her bed as she slept in her bedroom with three sisters, Stella 15, Leona 5 and Caroline 2. In an adjoining room slept the girl's father with two brothers, Ray 1, and Stanley 6. The mother is a patient in a state institution.

The fiend, according to police, let himself into the Sielagowski home by means of a pass key at the kitchen door.

As the little girl was seized in her bed she attempted to escape, the noise awakening her sister Leona.

TOLEDO, O., May 29.—Finding of the death car and the arrest of Stanley Sielagowski, 17, brother of seven-year-old Dorothy Sielagowski, who was brutally murdered this morning, were the latest developments in the man hunt here this afternoon. No charges have been placed against the youth.

Stanley was taken into custody by police several hours after his seven-year-old sister had been taken from her bed, forced into an automobile, assaulted and choked to death.

HANLON ISSUES NEW WARNING

With the entire nation ready to resume its annual touring experiences, a warning is issued by Bernard N. Hanlon, secretary-manager of the New Castle Motor club to the effect that much of the fatigue experienced by the average driver is due to the expense of energy in overcoming driving blunders that never should be committed.

"Take the case of the curve in a strange highway" says Mr. Hanlon. "A great deal of energy is consumed needlessly in the rectifying of blunders made at such a point. The blunder is in approaching the curve too fast. To overcome it the driver is forced to apply the brakes with a great deal of vigor and at the same time to put forth a great deal of physical strength to round the curve safely. The hills offer another illustration. There is a strong temptation not to go into second gear in spite of a warning sign. Yielding to the impulse to coast down the hills means that the roll of the car must be stopped with the brakes—another expense of strength.

"Driving at high speeds to a point where a stop must be made is another blunder which tends to leave the driver exhausted at the end of the day.

"Still other illustrations might be cited, but these should establish the fact that the commission of driving blunders is particularly designed to crate fatigue."

Memory Day

By FRANKLYN BLANNING

Memorial Day!
Pretty nice word, Nell!
Sweet flowers in May;
But Memory—Hell!

Memorial Day!
Just token of love,
Like a sunshine ray
And a snow-white dove.

But Mem'ry! Say!
All 'round is death-fire
As the big guns play
In the devil's hire.

Wallowing like hogs,
Did not even feel;
Cursing the Boche dogs!
Mem'ry's like cold steel.

Memorial Day!
There'll be marching feet;
Tribute sweet they'll lay
For those in Glory's seat.

Mem'ry's seeing red
Where Heinies strutted.
Mem'ry's seeing dead
By shrapnel gutted.

Splashing in dank mud,
Hearing ugly cries,
Smelling stench of blood
As the next man dies.

Memorial Day!
Where the heroes sleep
Lay the wreath of bay,
But we must not weep.

Mem'ry's nothin' kind:
It sticks in the head.
Can't fergit the dead!

Gleaming lifted knife.
Swung in hell-hot haste;
Taking warm young life,
Just a hellish waste.

Slime and slush and mire,
More than ankle-deep.
No thought of retire.
Life too damn cheap.

Teaching of the church:
"Man should do his best;
Seek an ideal perch,
God will do the rest."

Mem'ry don't decay:
It grows bit by bit
War demands blood-pay,
So in blood it's writ.

Memorial Day!
Pretty nice word, Nell!
Sweet flowers in May;
But Memory—Hell!

College Girls Will Extend Greetings In New Castle

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 29.—Unique and practical are the words descriptive of the plan formed by the Westminster Y. W. C. A. cabinet whereby new women students will be directed here next fall.

In the course of the summer months each girl intending to enter school here in the fall will receive, through the mail, a blue and white ribbon which she will wear when she starts for college. Then the senior Y. W. cabinet members, who will come back to school here early in the fall will also pin a blue and white ribbon on their lapel and wait at the Sharon and New Castle railroad stations for the incoming freshman girls.

With the seniors wearing the same insignia of the college the unguided students will be able to find guides who will make them thoroughly at home, even before they reach the college campus.

Seek To Prevent All Future Oil Scandals

Senator Nye Of Teapot Dome Committee Recommends Strict Legislation

Urges Congressional Supervision Of All Future Leasing Of Naval Reserves

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Legislation to prevent a repetition of the naval oil scandals was recommended in a report to Congress by Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the Teapot Dome committee.

Another report, by Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, summarizes the committee's work in running down the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 liberty bond deal.

Nye particularly emphasized the need for congressional supervision of all leases or transfers of naval oil reserves. He suggested also yearly accounting of all campaign expenditures and receipts in federal office contests and a "tightening up" of the corrupt practices act to provide better tax collections and prevent delay of delinquent taxes.

"Tax evasions which have been uncovered by the committee show that the government must tighten up in these matters," he said. "Changes in the criminal court procedure are necessary to avoid delays such as hindered the activities of the Senate committee here."

Walsh criticized the treasury for its long silence in the matter of collection of taxes due the government from the Continental deal and pointed out that expenses of the committee, which has turned up information resulting in the recovery of more than $2,000,000, have been but $14,165.

Seventy Applications For Naturalization Being Heard Today

Seventy applications for citizenship are scheduled to be heard at naturalization court being held at the courthouse today. So far several applications have been rejected on account of the applicants having been arrested. Where the arrest is for some minor offense it does not bar the applicant, but where it has been for violation of the prohibition laws the applicants are invariably refused.

One applicant from Ellwood City was badly disappointed when it was found that he could not be naturalized here on account of living in Beaver county. The line between Lawrence and Beaver passes through a section of Ellwood City and the applicant's home was just across the line. The mistake was not discovered when application for preliminary papers was made. As a result the applicant will have to start all over again.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

For the benefit of the customers who just came in, the announcement is made that today ends this insurance convention and that means end. After listening to insurance from 8:30 Monday morning to something like 1:15 this morning I am convinced that without insurance this country of ours would be still a prairie.

Without insurance men, the wheels of industry would be stilled, the cobwebs would festoon the corners of the factories, and women would still be wearing long skirts. Without insurance I dare say that Lindbergh might be driving a taxi today, and radio would still be the plaything of Lee De Forest. Just surmises of course, but why not go the whole distance.

Casting jokes to the one side, these insurance men believe in themselves, in their business, and in their ability to get your name on the dotted line. And after all it takes a certain amount of that cock sureness to make the wheels go around.

They have every kind of individual known to science up in the Cathedral. Spent the dinner hour last night with two that should be on the stage, by name Spieldock and Smyth. Spieldock would weigh about 115 with his woolen scarf on, and Smyth modestly admits to 255 in the altogether. Spieldock probably paralyzes his clients before signing them for he has a fund of stories that was still hardly scratched after three hours at full steam ahead. Smyth is no relation to the cough drop king, his claim to fame being that he played center on Fordham College football team when Frankie Frisch was the quarterback.

During the conversation, the names of outstanding insurance men in America came up and the men around the table agreed that Paul Haid, a New Castle man, now in the East, was one of the real giants in the profession.

The ball Monday evening was one of these doggy affairs. Oh very, m'dear. Lots of color and life and "moosic" and pretty women, and everything that goes to make up a nice party.

Getting away from insurance for the moment, keep your mind on the fact that on Sunday, June 3, we change over to Daylight Savings Time here in New Castle. That's another hour of sleep that is going to be lost, but you can save it until September and get it back.

This is for some of the lads who stand around the corner telling you what a dash blanked sort of a place this. In the past few weeks several instances have come to my attention but this one may do as an illustration. A young fellow was in New Castle for three months last summer. This is not his home town. He is accustomed to large cities. He left last fall and since that time has been trying to get back here and has finally accomplished it. He believes that New Castle is a wonderful city and at the risk of getting the well known razzberry from some of the scoofers I'm going to agree with him. It is a wonderful city, and anytime you think it isn't, listen in on some of the conventions that come here. Any one of them, they all tell the same story. A marvelous building for conventions, splendid hotel accommodations, hospitable people, and a genuine feeling of civic pride.

Over-Stout Women

No matter how heavy you are, here is an adjustable Reducing Surgical Corset, designed by one of the world's foremost corsetiers, that will just simply bring you together into the appearance of shapeliness and for the first time enable you to be comfortable all day long. To any overstout woman it will show at least a
Fifty Pound Reduction
And it will do this because it takes up all the bulge of the abdomen, rounds over the hips, curves the waist line to symmetrical appearance and brings the entire figure into comely proportions.
Makes You Shapely
Those layers of excess fat will gradually thin down. The flesh thus held more compactly will become more firm. The figure held securely induces a greater degree of activity, you don't tire easily, aches, pains and distresses caused by over-burdened fat disappear and all of this because the Corset
Holds You Perfectly
It has all the beauty and exquisite workmanship of the finest custom-made corset, but is made of special material, shaped for a stout figure, reinforced to stand strain, fits snugly at all points, feels smooth and moulded to the shape and cannot bulge, bend, wrinkle, curl up or get out of place at any point.
Try It Free
Mrs. M. J. Hudson, the personal representative of W. S. Rice, is now here to give the ladies of New Castle every opportunity to fully test his wonderful Reducing Surgical Corset.
Put it on and see how charmingly it feels, how perfectly it brings you into shape, how nice and comfortable you feel, how easily you breathe, how netively you become, how you can bend over without strain, walk upstairs like a girl, and wear modern gowns with all the appearance and freedom of a perfect figure.
It is made by W. S. Rice, Inc., in the largest and most complete factory of its kind in the world. And if you have been so unfortunate as to have undergone a surgical operation that has left the abdomen weak, a simple attachment of air cushions gives perfect protection.
